Khrushchev Answer Due On Ike Bid

'Stalling' Charge Against U. S. Aired By Soviet Leader

BULLETIN

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev agreed today to hold a summit conference in Geneva if or "any other city" in Europe if the United States fears security would be a problem in New York.

Khrushchev made his offer in letters to the Big Three, formally accepting the suggestion of French Premier Charles de Gaulle that Europe would be a better place for the top level talks.

By STEWART HENSLEY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Diplomatic officials expressed doubt today that Soviet press charges of U.S. "procrastination" mean that Russian premier Nikita Khrushchev will reject President Eisenhower's latest conditions for summit talks at the United Nations.

The attitude here was that developments must wait until the Soviet leader replies to the latest U.S. note in which Eisenhower told Khrushchev the United States is ready for a summit meeting, if Russia will abide by U.N. rules.

Await Dulles' Return

Further drafting of U.S. strategy also awaited Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' return Tuesday from Europe, where he has been conferring with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Diplomatic sources discounted attacks from the Soviet government newspaper "Izvestia" and the Communist Party, "Pravda," accusing America of resorting to "tricks" and "procedural gimmicks" to avoid a thorough discussion of Middle East problems.

They recalled that the Soviet press had sharply attacked some early proposals for U.N. summit discussions shortly after the current Middle East crisis began. But they pointed out that Khrushchev almost immediately let it be known that he was interested.

The Reassures World

During the lull in summit developments, the President reassured the world that U.S. forces were in Lebanon solely to help that tiny nation "preserve its independence."

The White House late Sunday made public a letter from Eisenhower to Lebanese President Camille Chamoun emphasizing that this country sent troops to Lebanon only in response to a plea from Chamoun.

Observers believed the President's letter was sent to further lay the groundwork for the position the United States will take in any summit meeting with Russia on the crisis.

USAF Helps British Unit

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The British Embassy said today the U.S. Air Force Sunday night began airlifting supplies of ammunition from Cyprus for British troops in Jordan. An embassy spokesman said a dozen C-119 Flying Boxcars were involved.

"These aircraft are more suitable for certain types of supplies than ours," he said.

He added the American airlift supplements the regular British airlift from the Cyprus base and is of a temporary nature, to last probably about a week.

Balloonists Break Record, Survive 2,000-Foot Bounce

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Space explorers Malcolm Ross and M. Lee Lewis survived a 2,000-foot bounce when they came back to earth Sunday from a record-breaking balloon flight.

The 34½-hour trip was man's longest flight into the stratosphere. The balloonists reached 82,000 feet.

The fliers had their toughest decision after a release mechanism failed to detach the massive balloon from the gondola as they were landing.

The 17-story gas bag banged the round aluminum capsule onto a pasture in east central North Dakota, then carried Ross and

'Dirty Bomb' Explained By Defense Head

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense McElroy says that whether the Pentagon is making its atomic bombs dirtier hinges on the point of view.

McElroy told Congress that bombs have been withdrawn from stockpile and modified so they can be exploded at ground level. This in turn would make their fallout dirtier in the immediate area although he said the total fallout would remain the same.

But he said the purpose of the change to a surface blast is to insure destruction of such heavy targets as missile launching sites, pillboxes and submarine launching pens.

"Whether a bomb which has been modified to provide an optional surface burst is dirtier or not depends on the point of view," McElroy said in a letter to the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee. The letter was made public Sunday night.

A bitter debate over the issue was triggered three months ago when Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (NM), senior Senate Democrat on the committee, charged bombs had been taken out of the nation's nuclear arsenal and made dirtier by inserting something. Lewis Strauss, then chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, flatly denied this.

A bomb's dirtiness is measured by the amount of radioactive fallout it produces. Scientists agree that large amounts of fallout over a long period could endanger future generations.

Father Drowns While Teaching Child To Swim

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Charles Chester Walker, 34, of St. Joseph, was teaching his son, Stephen, to swim at nearby Sugar Lake Sunday, when suddenly he pushed Stephen toward shore.

Stephen, 8, told officers he and his father were only about 10 feet from the bank when Walker shoved him and then disappeared beneath the water.

About an hour later, divers brought up Walker's body. They found it seven feet down, entangled in moss.

Thief Spurns Warning Sign

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Police said today a thief who stole an eight-foot painting of Christ from the chapel at Camp Revere near here Sunday walked right by a neon sign flashing: "He watches you every minute." The painting was valued at between $500 and $1,000.

Clear Signal Sent By U. S. Third 'Moon'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The world's newest satellite is off to a spectacular start on a five-year journey through space. Scientists keeping a critical eye on Explorer IV announced that the heaviest and most vital of the three U.S. moons in orbit performed smoothly during its first 36 hours.

The launching by the amazingly reliable Jupiter-C rocket last Saturday was so successful, in fact, that the 38.43-pound tube probably will be the most durable Army satellite yet.

Officials at first expressed concern that the latest Army venture might be short lived.

As it looped through an elliptical orbit every 110 minutes, the satellite beeped out loud and clear signals on an intense field of radiation 600 miles in outer space.

Latest estimates placed Explorer IV as close to earth as 163 miles and as high as 1,373 miles as it swings around the globe an average of 13 times a day.

House Group Vote Slated On Goldfine

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House influence — investigating subcommittee members planned to press today for a vote on recommending citation of Boston millionaire Bernard Goldfine for contempt of Congress. If the vote is taken, it is virtually certain to favor contempt action.

Subcommittee Chairman Orrin Harris (D-Ark.) called a closed subcommittee meeting this afternoon to discuss a "code of ethics" bill aimed at halting alleged abuses uncovered in investigating the Federal Communications Commission.

The meeting was the first since the subcommittee halted its hearings into charges that Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams influenced the Federal Trade Commission and Securities & Exchange Commission on Goldfine's behalf while receiving plush gifts from the textile manufacturer.

Harris declined to say whether the long-expected vote on a contempt citation for Goldfine would be held. However several subcommittee members "anxious" to vote made clear they planned to discuss it. Harris and several other members including some Republicans have made it clear they think Goldfine is guilty of contempt.

North Korean Coup Exposed

SEOUL (AP) — The South Korean government prosecutor's office reported today that an information leak revealed a plot among top Communist officers in North Korea to overthrow the Communist government.

The prosecutor's office said the attempt against Premier Kim Il Sung's regime was led by Lt. Gen. Chang Pyung San, commander of the 4th Army Corps stationed 10 miles south of the North Korean capital of Pyongyang.

The prosecutor's office said the coup had been set for last May Day after two years of planning but an information leak in mid-April squashed the plan and led to the arrest of numerous officers and men of the 4th Corps.

Macmillan Asserts Alliance Aims Will Not Undergo Change

BULLETIN

LONDON (AP) — John Foster Dulles assured the Baghdad pact nations today the United States would act, even at great risk, to safeguard their independence and integrity against any threats.

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP) — British Prime Minister Macmillan today opened the Baghdad Pact Council meeting without Iraq present and announced that the remaining four member nations intend to maintain the aims of their alliance.

The British leader told the conference, which U.S. Secretary of State Dulles is attending as an observer:

"We intend to maintain the aims of our alliance and to consider how to do this in the light of the present situation."

"Our purpose is to reaffirm the intentions expressed in that instrument (the Baghdad Pact) as a means for collective security."

On hand for the meeting were the prime ministers and foreign secretaries of Britain, Turkey, Pakistan and Iran as well as Dulles.

Has Not Withdrawn

Iraq, the only Arab member of the anti-Communist alliance, has not withdrawn from the treaty but appears unlikely to play much if any part in the organization in the future. However, a growing tendency within the governments of the United States and the Baghdad group to recognize the Iraqi regime was reported.

Some of the tasks facing the current Council meeting are:

1. A reappraisal of future operations in the light of Iraq's expected withdrawal. This involves changing the name, the headquarters, and the military and economic program.

2. An assessment of the significance of rebel-ruled Iraq's possession of most of the allies' political secrets. The Iraqi rebels seized most of the important military and political documents formulated for the defense of the region when they took over the Baghdad Pact headquarters building in the Iraqi capital.

3. An examination of the prospects of winning the cooperation of the Russians throughout the Middle East.

4. Formulation of a common attitude — probably involving recognition — toward the new government in Baghdad.

5. Discussion of the political feasibility of coming to some sort of terms with President Nasser of the United Arab Republic. The United States and Britain have been thinking of trying for the return of normal relations with (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Owner Catches Auto Thief And Recovers $1,000

CLEVELAND (AP) — A visitor from Philadelphia, Levi Hennant, went to police headquarters to report the theft of his car.

As he and a friend drove away from the station they spotted an auto that looked familiar. Giving chase, they forced it to the curb. Sure enough, it was Hennant's car.

While his friend collared the 17-year-old boy who had been driving the missing vehicle, Hennant anxiously opened the trunk.

The youth hadn't bothered to look inside. There, untouched, was the paper sack containing Hennant's $1,000 in vacation money.

Mansfield Suggests Congress Quit Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) said today it might be a good thing if Congress wound up its session before the start of a United Nations summit conference on the Middle East.

Congress is moving into a stretch drive with some members talking of an Aug. 9 adjournment and others saying it's possible within a week after that. Aug. 11 has been mentioned as a possible starting date if President Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Khrushchev and other heads of state meet in New York.

"I think President Eisenhower probably would feel free to act if Congress were not in session and, as it were, looking over his shoulder at a summit conference," Mansfield said in an interview.

"I would assume the President would keep in close touch with the congressional leaders if we are not in session. In any event he can carry on negotiations with the knowledge he has the united support of the country behind him."

Eisenhower's Middle East policies have come under fire in the Senate and more of this running debate can be expected as long as Congress is in session.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.), for instance, has told the Senate he will document for it his charge that Eisenhower's decision to send troops to Lebanon was taken "in clear violation of the Constitution."

Mansfield and Senators J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), among others, have criticized what they called Eisenhower's reluctant attitude toward meeting Soviet Premier Khrushchev at the summit.

Humphrey said on a television program this country should enter such a meeting "with a program in hand, that we clearly understand what we're after and the kind of solution we want."

Maryland Man Killed In Crash

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP) — A car skidded nearly 150 feet and crashed into a pole early today, killing a Montgomery County man who was driving.

County police said Henry Ford Davidson, 25, of Derwood, skidded 68 feet on the highway and 78 feet on the grass before hitting a utility pole roadside near Washington Grove. He died of a broken neck. The accident occurred about 12:30 a.m.

Davidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Davidson of Derwood, was alone in the car.

Others Held In Probe Of Gun Mishap

Group Was Making Unauthorized Visit To Lebanese Houses

By EDWIN A. SHANKE

BEIRUT (AP) — A U.S. Marine spokesman said today a private first class, fatally shot Sunday, was killed by the accidental discharge of a companion's .45 caliber automatic.

Lt. Col. Leslie Gilson, Marine spokesman, said four Marines were on an unauthorized visit to a cluster of houses half a mile forward of the Marine position at the time of the accident.

One of the Marines was climbing over a wall when his .45 apparently snagged and the bullet went through the holster into the head of a man standing below. The dead man's name was withheld.

Three Request Counsel

The three surviving Marines are being held for investigation and have requested counsel before making a statement. Under the U.S. Uniform Code of Military Justice men under investigation are not required to make a statement without the advice of lawyers.

Since the Marines landed July 9 to help protect Lebanon's pro-Western government from a pro-Nasser rebellion, three other U.S. servicemen have been killed, all accidentally.

American troop commanders were on the alert to watch for trouble this week, when Lebanon's 66-member Parliament is scheduled to elect a new president.

Robert Murphy, the United States' top diplomatic troubleshooter, has been conferring with rebel and government politicians in hopes of helping them agree on a compromise candidate. But if a candidate acceptable to both sides cannot be found, the virtually stalemated rebellion may erupt into new violence.

The U.S. military reaction probably would be an increase in motorized and helicopter patrols and a set of new strongpoints. The U.S. policy has been to leave the fight against the rebels to the Lebanese army, whose commanders have been content to contain them in certain sectors of the main cities and the countryside without trying an all-out effort to end the rebellion.

In neighboring Jordan, where British troops were flown in to help protect King Hussein's pro-Western government from elements supporting President Nasser of the United Arab Republic, the Jordanian army said it had captured eight infiltrators near the Syrian border after a clash.

Nasser Sunday attended dedication ceremonies for Egypt's first steel plant, built by a West German firm about 40 miles south of Cairo. He said that Arabs would defend themselves against foreign aggression without help and "any attack on one Arab country is aggression on us all."

Honest Cabbie Returns $2,300, Gets No Reward

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taxi driver Melvin James let a woman passenger off at a downtown bank and drove off.

Some six blocks away he saw a large purse on the back seat, and hurried back to the bank. The woman wasn't there.

He looked into the purse. It contained $2,300 in cash.

James searched the nearby area and found the woman, standing bewildered in the middle of the sidewalk.

"She said the $2,300 belonged to her recreational club's funds," said James. "The loss had hit her hard. She didn't even know what kind of a cab she had been in."

Any reward?

"No. She was so flustered I guess she forgot."

New York Leads All States In Making, Consuming Beer

NEW YORK (AP) — New York topped all 48 states in the making and drinking of beer and ale in 1957, the Brewers Almanac says.

New Yorkers consumed 10,421,700 barrels of beer and ale and breweries here turned out 11,900,000 barrels of suds. The latter figure gave the Empire State an edge over Wisconsin, the 1956 champion, which brewed 11,700,000 barrels of malt beverages.

The figures were compiled in the 1958 Almanac, published annually by the United States Brewers Foundation, a trade organization whose members produce 85 per cent of the nation's beer and ale.

Pennsylvanians placed second in consumption by downing 7,240,360 barrels of the foamy stuff and Californians were third with 6,539,636. In production, New Jersey was third at 7,600,000, followed by Pennsylvania, 7,300,000; California, 7,000,000; and Missouri, 6,600,000.

Wisconsinites more than held their own on the basis of per capita consumption, however. They slaked their collective thirsts with an average of 24.6 gallons (about 390 eight-ounce glasses) a year. New Yorkers could do no better than 20.3 gallons.

Liberal Wins In Texas Battle

Conservatives Keep Control Of Party Organization

DALLAS (AP) — Liberal U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough decisively won renomination in Texas Democratic primary Saturday but Gov. Price Daniel's conservative forces appeared to have retained control of the party organization and the Texas delegation to the 1960 national convention.

In a clear-cut liberal versus conservative contest, Yarborough, seeking his first full six-year term, outdistanced William A. Blakley, Dallas multimillionaire, who once served four months in the Senate under an interim appointment.

Virtually complete returns Sunday night gave Yarborough 701,985 votes, Blakley 497,219.

Daniel, who won a thumping clear-cut majority for the gubernatorial nomination, had urged a strong turnout of conservatives at precinct conventions to retain control of the state organization, which has been sought by the liberal organization, the Democratic Party of Texas.

Daniel's backers claimed that conservatives have nailed down 222,249, and Joe Irwin, re-elected insurance man, 32,220.

Eighteen of Texas' congressmen faced no opposition. Three others were renominated. Rep. Martin Dies, whose congressman-at-large job was abolished with the creation of the new 22nd Dist., did not seek office.

In the general election, Daniel will face Ed Mayer, Republican Almanac, published annually by the United States Brewers Foundation, a trade organization whose members produce 85 per cent of the nation's beer and ale.

Daniel polled 741,219 votes to win the Democratic gubernatorial nomination — tantamount to election in Texas. Former Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel received 222,727 votes, State Sen. Henry B. Gon-

Amariello.

'Flying Tigers' Leader, Gen. Chennault Expires

By JAMES DOWLING

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Lt. Gen. Claire Chennault, the Louisiana farm boy who became commander of the famed Flying Tigers of World War II, is dead. He was 67.

A massive arterial hemorrhage ended the ailing general's fight with lung cancer Sunday in Ochsner Foundation Hospital. His wife, Chinese-born Anna Chan Chennault, was at his side at the end.

Death came nine days after President Eisenhower signed an emergency bill giving Chennault his third star.

The body lies in state here today with a service scheduled this evening, Tuesday, a military plane will fly the body to Washington where it will lie in state until burial the next day in Arlington National Cemetery.

Chennault's old comrade of the Chinese war against Japan, Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, said she was shocked to hear of the general's death.

Mme. Chiang, who made a special trip here July 11 for a dramatic reunion, said in Washington: "He was a great friend of the Chinese people and the cause we stand for."

The Japanese had enough respect for him to name him their No. 1 "war criminal," one ahead of President Roosevelt.

A deaf ear and his outspoken support of Gen. Billy Mitchell forced the then Capt. Chennault to retire from the Army Air Corps in April 1937.

The next month he was in China at the request of Mme. Chiang to inspect the Chinese air force. He stayed on to instruct pilots and supervise the makeshift maintenance of the outmoded Chinese aircraft.

In 1941, Chennault formed the American Volunteer Group, later known as the Flying Tigers.

With shark's teeth painted on the snouts of their outmoded P-40 fighters, this outnumbered band of volunteers officially downed 288 Japanese planes in six months.

They were generally credited with 300 more kills.

Flying Tiger losses: eight pilots killed in action.

After the United States entered the war, Chennault took command of the 14th Air Force in China as a brigadier general. He was promoted to major general in 1943.

After the war, he remained in China, founding Civil Air Transport, a privately owned airline now operating out of Taipei.

Chennault remained with the Nationalist Chinese during their retreat on the mainland and mass exodus to Formosa. He returned to the United States for the last time in February to undergo extensive treatment for lung cancer.

Algerian Rebels Kill 4 Persons

ALGIERS (AP)—Algerian nationalist rebels killed at least 4 persons and injured 37 in terrorist attacks over the weekend.

Foreign Legion paratroopers again moved into the ancient native Casbah of Algiers, the stronghold of the rebel spirit in the city.

Among the weekend's victims was Ali Akrou, pro-French mayor of the village of Boudjima in the rebel-infested Kabylie Mountains. He was cut down by two pistol bullets as he ventured outside his village, held by a French army battalion.

Dulles Favors Continuing

U.S. sources said that Dulles is strongly in favor of continuing the Baghdad Pact, despite the likelihood that the new Iraqi government will pull out of it.

The United States has joined only the pact's economic, military and countervailing committees. It reportedly still has no plans to take full membership.

The trend toward recognition of the Iraqi government was based on a realization that the regime was in power to stay and nothing apparently can be done about it. Pakistan was considering going ahead with recognition on its own, and the United States was reportedly leaning toward recognition as a gesture of friendship toward Arab nationalism.

The West, meanwhile, awaited Soviet Premier Khrushchev's reply to President Eisenhower's proposal that the U.N. Security Council arrange a summit conference on the Middle East. An Associated Press survey of the Council indicated that at least 7 of the 11 Council members would approve holding the conference within the U.N.

Nationalist China, Iraq and Panama were as yet uncertain on the proposal. French Premier de Gaulle wants the meeting held in Europe but has not said he wouldn't come to the U.N.

Britain, Canada, the Soviet Union and the United States are on record for the meeting, and Colombia, Japan and Sweden were expected to agree.

Minnesota has 508 tree farms, covering 439,799 acres.

The conference today precedes a session of the union's 25-man executive council called for Friday in Detroit.

U. S. Again Wins In Russian Meet

Girl Drowns After Swept Into Sewer

QUINCY, Ill. (AP)—A flash flood coursing downhill six inches deep caught up four children Sunday and swept two several blocks underground through a mucky sewer to Quincy Bay, a refuse-filled backwater of the Mississippi River.

One child, identified as Julia Shaffer, 5, was dead when pulled from the bay. All were the children of Mrs. Ruby Shaffer.

Another child, Patty Ann, 10, was alive when rescued from the bay.

Two brothers, Clarence, 9, and Dale, 6, swept into the sewer with the girls, grabbed floating branches in the 36-inch sewer and climbed out a manhole. Clarence was hospitalized for observation.

Police said the four children were playing in the street near their home when a sudden downpour produced a flash flood running downhill toward the sewer.

All four plunged into the sewer which had no grate.

The situation continued to move back to normal in Iraq, whose July 14 revolution sparked fears that Nasser would also be successful in Jordan and Lebanon. Iraqi assets of 80 million pounds ($24 million dollars) were unfrozen in London. Officials in Baghdad said a ban on the international transfer of money would be lifted at once and normal business relations between Iraq and the rest of the world could now be resumed.

Brig. Gen. Abdul Karim Kassem, premier of the new Iraqi government, proclaimed a provisional constitution until a permanent one is drafted and approved by a referendum.

The provisional constitution declares Iraq is part of the "Arab nation" but is independent and sovereign. It says private property can be nationalized only if the owners are paid for it according to the law.

Fight Over Hedge Apple Alcohol Lasted 2 Years

CARTHAGE, Mo.—(AP)—All Kenneth Welch wanted to do was find a commercial use for the hedge apple. But that was before he reckoned with the revenuers.

No one had ever found any use for the hedge apple. Welch, a 40-year-old stonecutter, thought he would try boiling the fruit.

His experiments led him to believe that from a ton of hedge apples he could get 67 pounds of vegetable oil, 24 pounds of an antioxidant compound for use as a food preservative, 309 pounds of high protein dried pulp good for cattle feed, and 20 gallons of ethyl alcohol.

Alcohol. That's where the rub came. A good citizen, Welch figured that since alcohol was one of the products, he had better tell the federal alcohol tax people what he was about.

"The alcohol wasn't what I was after," he relates, "but they couldn't understand what I was doing. I believe they thought I was some kind of bootlegger."

"They confiscated all the alcohol, dumped out all my experiments and told me I couldn't do any more experimenting under any circumstances. They took all my equipment, too, including my wife's pressure cooker."

Then the government sent a bill for $111.53—taxes on the alcohol he had produced.

That was about two years ago, and Welch says he's still sparring with the alcohol tax people.

Perle's Soirees Are World Famed

"Washington's Prize Parties" This is another of six articles in which one of Washington's best-known correspondents takes you inside the houses where the capital's most luxurious parties are given, to meet the hostesses and see how they entertain.

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — High on a knoll overlooking Spring Valley, the capital's best known hostess reigns supreme in the most exquisite "small" house in Washington.

Forty or fifty years ago, when a Michigan lumbering magnate erected the Norman chateau now known as "Les Ormes," it stood deep in the countryside surrounded by acres of woods.

Today, Madame Perle Mesta has city neighbors, but once within the fairyland confines of her French-style garden, guests are as remote from public stare as were Adam and Eve in the original Eden.

Perle's flair for soirees has been adequately proven on two continents, but not until she brought and re-created the French flavor of "Les Ormes" did she have opportunity to exhibit her amazing talents as a patio hostess non parcell.

Just ask youthful Prince Juan Carlos! Accustomed as is the potential future King of Spain to European luxury, his dark eyes widened with delight when, during his recent Washington visit, he first glimpsed Perle's garden setting which looked for all the world like a Parisian sidewalk cafe.

The terrace stones, flecked with yellow, accommodated 300 guests as easily as the average dining room seats six, and a green-and-yellow marquee stretched above the dozens of individual tables insured a perfect party, rain or shine. So did two separate orchestras!

A famed French landscape gardener flew four times from Paris to ensure that Perle's huckleberry trees were trimmed to the formal shape of their counterparts at Versailles, and that the shrubbery bounding the courtyard would have suited the fastidious taste of Louis XV.

Perle enjoyed the party for the fun-loving prince, just as she did the dance she hosted for President Eisenhower's debutante niece Ruth, and the supper parties for actresses Shirley Booth and Celeste Holm.

Her personal party choice, however, was the one she gave recently for "the space people," in honor of Werner Von Braun, the Army's missile chief.

Venetian 18th century murals seemed to stare in bewilderment as Madame Mesta's 24 space-age dinner guests chuckled delightedly at the sputniks and satellites which, attached to thin wires, orbited above the table decorations.

Mrs. Mesta and her sister, Mrs.

George Tyson, spent 10 years collecting the antique furnishings, and two years remodeling their present estate. Every piece of furniture for the five bedrooms and five salons is a signed work by a master French craftsman of the Louis XV and XVI periods.

The parquet floor of the drawing room came from a chateau in Versailles, and the rose satin wall panels from a chateau outside of Paris.

Here, in the opulence of a long-gone era, the former minister to Luxembourg entertains 20th century politicians with a fine disdain for their party affiliations. A Republican-turned-Democrat, the Oklahoma oil heir dispenses hospitality with the lavish hand of a French queen and the democratic glad-hand of an all-American candidate for office.

Perle seldom stands alone with her honored guests in a receiving line. Her invariable companion is prize-winning Fifi, a four-pound ball of white fluff from Mrs. Tyson's famed kennels, who is a champion in the toy French poodle class.

The proudest artisans of France may have designed the remainder of "Les Ormes," but Perle herself converted one of the maid's rooms into a luxurious kennel for Fifi and her two puppies, "A.M." and "P.M."

"A.M.," nicknamed "Toni," is well on his own way to becoming a champion, but it was a sad day for Madame Mesta this spring when little "P.M." struck her head against the playpen and died of concussion.

Perle's boundless energy has taken her to nearly every corner of the globe, but the place she likes best is Washington, and the guests she enjoys most are scientists.

The "space people," as she calls them, are "out of this world."

Stock Market Bulls Sniff Inflation

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The bulls are sniffing inflation ahead and are confident that the turn in business is here. That is why last week they bid up stock prices almost to the record high of a year ago.

In doing this they are putting their own interpretation on the Middle East crisis and on the effects of a possible visit of Khrushchev to these shores.

Corporate earnings statements for the first half of the year also look different to the bulls than to the bears. In fact the bulls are ignoring the numerous bears, whose betting on a further shakeout in the market is shown by a record volume of short selling (making a sales contract now in belief the stock can be bought later at a lower price to fulfill the contract at a profit).

The bulls also think the inventory trend is turning—from drastic piling of stocks to inquiries and actual orders that herald a rebuilding of stocks in the near future—with the Middle East playing a large role.

The bulls hold that the Middle East crisis is to be a war of nerves instead of bullets. This would support many of the forces making for further inflation: increased spending for defense, larger federal deficits, a higher debt ceiling. In other words, the government will be pumping more money into the economy by deficit spending than it will be taking out by tax collections. Business usually reacts to this by a spurt of activity on its own.

Inflation has another built in booster. This is the automatic rise in some wage scales, and the prospects of pay hikes in other industries — prospects which increased world tension and inflation of the monetary system make all the stronger.

Middle East, Autos Boost Steel Demand

Crisis In East Said Direct Cause; Future In Oil Looking Up

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Steel demand is picking up, aided mostly by automotive orders and to some degree by the Middle East crisis, steel Magazine reported today.

The weekly trade magazine said initial orders from Detroit have been no bigger than last year's—4,000 to 5,000 tons—but they are more than welcome.

Chrysler Corp. and the Fisher Body, Buick Oldsmobile and Pontiac divisions of General Motors placed orders. Ford Motor Co. will start ordering soon. About 20 percent of the tonnage is for August delivery, the rest for September.

Following substantial orders for cold-rolled sheets, bars and stainless strip, automakers are expected to issue release dates to their parts suppliers. They will soon be ordering steel for frames, springs and stampings.

Orders by the automakers were not influenced by the Middle East trouble which flared up a few days before they began buying. They were influenced solely by low steel stocks and a desire to get started on 1959 models.

However, increased demand for steel could be traced directly to the Middle East situation. An oil drum manufacturer who had been restricting his sheet supplier to shipments of a few carloads per month announced that he wanted all his orders delivered at once. He speculated that more drums would be needed to airlift oil to Western allies.

Two factors enhanced prospects for a recovery in oil country goods.

Arab nationalists may cut pipe lines, calling for increases in American, Canadian and Venezuelan oil to supply Europe. And the Texas Railroad Commission raised the limit on producing days from 9 to 11 per month beginning in August. Texas bankers are revising their policies and will lend more money to drilling contractors.

With the release of second quarter statements, steelmakers continued to stress a need for higher prices. U.S. Steel Corp. is believed waiting for a stronger market before announcing an increase.

Steel production continued a steady recovery last week from the July 4 setback.

Steelworkers Head Slated To Step Down

NEW YORK (UPI)—David McDonald will bow out as president of the United Steelworkers (AFL-CIO) this year in the face of mounting rank-and-file opposition to his leadership of the one million-man union. Fortune Magazine said today in a copyrighted article.

The 56-year-old labor leader will be succeeded by L. W. Abel, secretary-treasurer of the union, the magazine predicted.

McDonald will resign his $50,000-a-year post at the union's convention this September to stage off an open floor fight, the publication said.

He has lost touch with rank-and-file members and alienated officials of the big union by his "highhandedness" in running union affairs, the magazine added.

McDonald was elected head of the United Steelworkers in 1953 succeeding the late Philip Murray.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the Flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

We Can Try, At Least

THE AGREEMENT among the major East-West powers to hold a summit meeting within the United Nations fold sets a number of precedents that are bound to arouse and excite the world. But it would be unwise to promise that great achievements toward peace will flow from this conference. It will, of course, be the first gathering of heads of state of the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union placed within the U. N. framework instead of above and beyond it. And it will be the first time in the history of Russian communism that a Soviet premier, in this instance Nikita Khrushchev, has set foot in the United States for any purpose whatsoever. Security officials and news photographers probably will put this down as a high-water mark. President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles did not want this meeting. They are firmly convinced, on the basis of the record of past summit sessions, that they accomplish little.

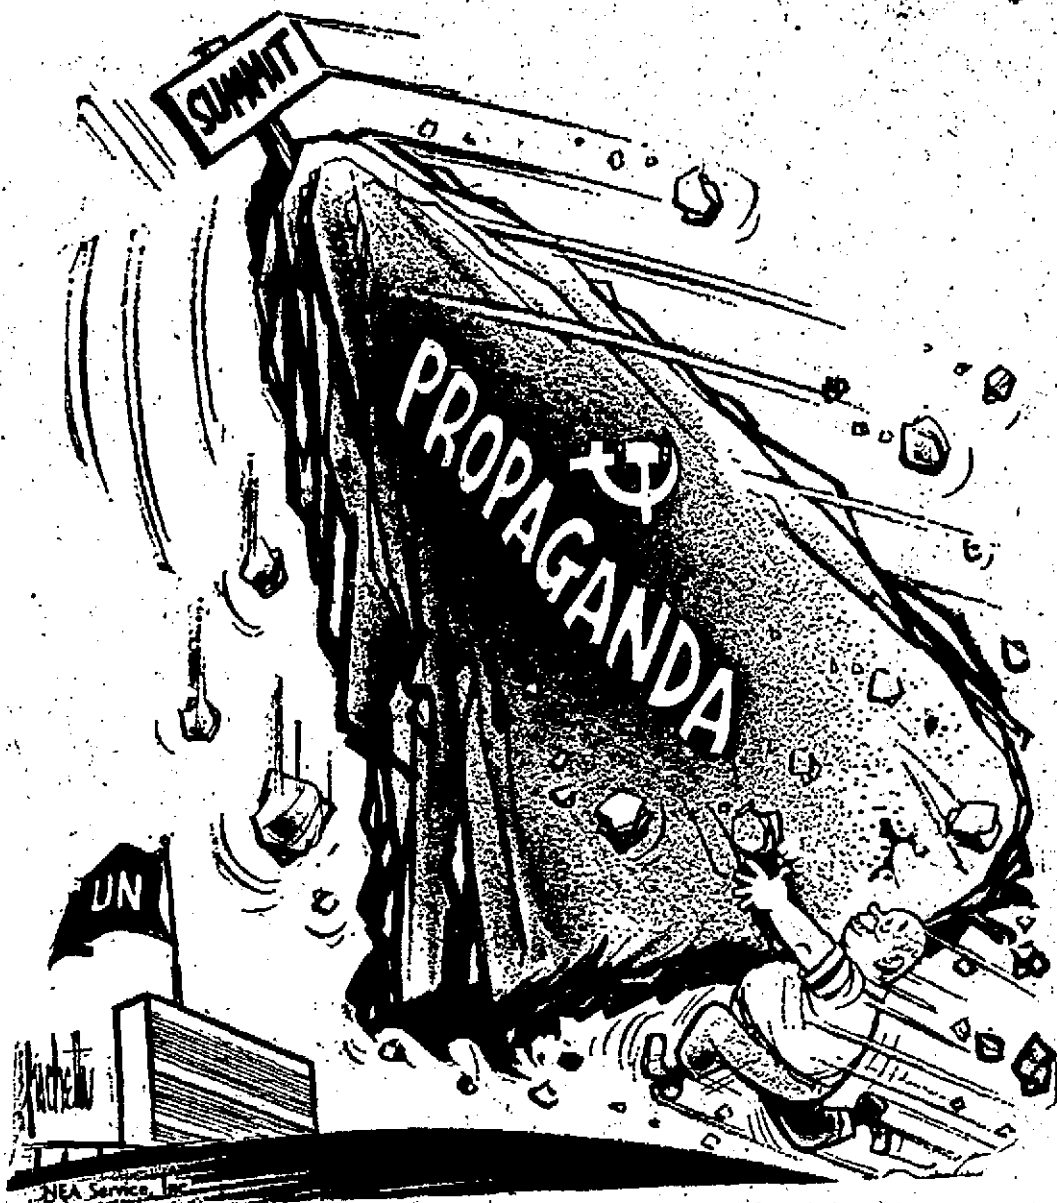

NORMALLY the heads of state, for all their supreme power, deal only in vague generalities and surface sociabilities. They thus often tend to stir widespread hopes of real achievement which are dashed when the diplomatic technicians get down to hard business. That explains why America has been so insistent on advance preparation for such a conference at the foreign minister level. Russia only recently sabotaged preparatory efforts of this sort in London. Russia's interest is obvious: It wants a big show in which it can pose as the great peacemaker, act the big brother, agree to nothing substantial and go home blaming the West for the meeting's fundamental failures. To Moscow, therefore, preparation is unimportant. The Middle Eastern crisis gave Khrushchev a fresh opportunity to press for the kind of meeting he desires rather than accept our plan of proper preparation. Shrewdly he recognized that we would be hard put to refuse in the current critical atmosphere. It is bad enough that we have so often to resist his "peace" offers in more normal times. Too many of the world's people do not understand the fraud. But the Middle East is too tense to allow us an easy "no."

CREDIT BRITAIN with devising the counterproposal to hold the session within U. N. auspices. This takes some of the initiative away from Russia and gives the meeting the look of a sort of high-level supplement to regular U. N. deliberations on the Middle Eastern situation. Since the summit session is now scheduled, the West plainly must approach it positively with an eye to cutting away Soviet propaganda advantage and converting it to the uses of free men. We surely can scotch what Mr. Eisenhower called Russia's "exaggerated fear" of a general war growing out of the Middle East dilemma. There will be such a war only if the Kremlin wants it. We ought to be able to go far toward exposing the fraud in Russia's endless posturing for peace and its preposterous presumption in donning the attire of world policeman. How dare the butchers of Hungarian freedom talk of "aggression" by others? Maybe we can even come up with a sensible plan for the Middle East's future which will embarrass the phony schemes brewing in Moscow. Surely we should try.

Music In The Air

THE 17TH CENTURY English poet, William Congreve, wrote that music "hath charms to soothe the savage breast, to soften rocks, or bend a knotted oak." If so, the savage breast is being soothed, the rocks softened, the knotted oak bent as never before. For music, in these United States, is enjoying a phenomenal popularity. One big factor in this is, of course, the television and radio broadcasting that pours out a constant stream—a veritable Mississippi, an Amazon—of music all day long. Another factor is the tremendous rise in the sale of record-playing equipment and records. This is probably all to the good, though to some the musical diet does seem a little short on classical meat and potatoes, and heavy on sentimental tunes. At any rate, music's in the air to an extent not dreamed of a few years ago.

Mideast Policy News Now Hard To Find

WASHINGTON—Bootless Brutus who knelt to no avail to Julius Caesar had nothing on the earnest Washington reporter who decided to hunt hard news here about United States Middle East policy as the second week following Marine landings in Lebanon drew to a close.

The White House was no help. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty continues to be the sole fountainhead of its disclosures. His morning nugget was that the President was working on a reply to another letter from Khrushchev.

This is the letter accepting the President's suggestion for a summit meeting undesired by the Administration and offering to make up the guest list, prepare the refreshments and outline the conclusions.

Naturally it will take time to compose an answer. By the time the answer reaches Moscow the Soviet premier will doubtless have thought of something else, since he has clearly seized the letter-writing championship from Lord Chesterfield.

IT IS NOT, of course, Hagerty's fault that he is beginning to sound like a broken phonograph record. He is only the conduit for news; he cannot make it, at least in the foreign policy field.

However, it is not to be supposed that the White House is without information about the great world outside Moscow. An agreeable lobbyist for the grocery chains of the nation moved briskly through the executive offices where reporters wait hours for crumbs from the Hagerty table.

ASKED BY a friend about his mission, he replied he was just back from Europe and was making a report. Pressed to tell to whom he was reporting, he was coy, but within seconds he was whisked obsequiously behind the great wall which now hides all the staff work being done within immediate call of the President. The obsequiousness was immediately marked down by the regulars as proof that Sherman Adams was receiving, not this type but callers.

The State Department was frank. It had nothing at all to offer. Nobody has held a press conference or even a briefing there since the Marines look off for the Middle East.

SECRETARY of State Dulles had been helping to compose the reply to Khrushchev. But now he was seeing the French Ambassador and the Prime Minister from Ghana.

Officials at the State Department, like reporters, are studying the newspapers, foreign and domestic, and talking with foreign diplomats.

It is impressions thus arrived at, and they are generally very sound ones since there are very experienced and knowledgeable people around this town, which form the chief basis for Washington news stories about the crisis.

THE PENTAGON is not permitting press conferences either. It is holding briefings, but they are conducted by junior staff officers of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and nothing said there can be attributed to anybody. Some old-fashioned reporters boycott this type of information, though if there is any justification for it anywhere it is in the purely military realm.

What is new is that United States moves, so weighted with heavy political consequences, foreign and domestic, are still being treated as purely a military command decision, as the crisis—which such moves were designed to resolve—moves toward another week.

Russian Bear Gets Paws Into Mideast

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—After insisting that Soviet Russia had no interest and no business in the Middle East, President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles now find themselves boxed into talking about it to Communist boss Khrushchev at a special United Nations Security Council meeting.

This may be just the beginning. From now on, when any Middle East problem arises, Russia will have to be consulted. Only a dedicated international Communist can see good coming from this.

To gain access to the warm-water ports of the southern Eurasian land mass has been a Russian ambition since the days of the czars—long before communism.

There have been several such attempts since the end of World War II.

First was Russia's move into northern Iran, heading for the Persian Gulf in 1946. Next came pressure against Turkey for greater control of the Bosphorus, Sea of Marmara and the Dardanelles.

Then there was the Communist uprising against Greece, for direct access to the Mediterranean.

Finally, the Communist aggression against Korea in 1950. Now there is interference in affairs of the whole Middle East.

support of Nasser's Arab nationalism.

SO NOW THE western powers—principally the United States and the United Kingdom—have blundered into a situation in which they must deal with Russia on the future of the Middle East.

It is further complicated by the fact that President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have argued all along that there should be no summit conference without adequate diplomatic preparation. They have now eulogized themselves into a conference for which there will be no preparation.

MANY PEOPLE in Washington and elsewhere throughout the world are trying to figure out how all this happened.

It can be traced back, as some critics have done, to the establishment of Israel in the heart of a hostile Arab world.

It may have had its beginnings in America's withdrawal of support for Egypt's Aswan Dam project.

It could be laid to failing to make a partner of growing Arab nationalism and to giving too much support to decadent kingdoms instead of to democracies.

It will be attributed by some historians to too much support for dying British and French colonialism.

ON THE OTHER side of that argument, American insistence on ending the British-French-

Israeli invasion of Egypt after nationalization of the Suez Canal can be listed as one reason for failure to meet the challenge of Nasserism head-on and earlier.

The Baghdad Pact—which many U. S. career diplomats have not liked—and the Eisenhower Doctrine—which has not worked—can catch a share of the responsibility.

Finally, the wisdom of ordering American Marines into Lebanon and British paratroopers into Jordan is now being seriously questioned.

Trying to fix the blame for any or all of these developments does no particular good and is water over the dam.

The United States has now drifted over that dam in a barrel of trouble. The problem is how to get out.

Give Him Corn On The Cob

WASHINGTON—What we had better do when Nikita Khrushchev gets here is give him some of that breathless, American-made vodka. Then let him chomp on a sirloin steak, because I hear tell there are no beefsteaks in Russia.

Over there the folks whack off chunks of meat directly into the stew.

Then when the talky-talk at the United Nations is finished I think we should give him a sight-seeing tour. Let him look at the tall corn in Iowa and observe the capitalistic peasants out there in their air-conditioned sedans.

GIVE HIM a look at Oak Ridge, or even Hanford, where the atoms are packed in small packages. Let him see Detroit where production lines of hard-tops will dazzle him with their chrome and where, if necessary, tanks could be rolling out just as rapidly.

Let old Grushy stroll around Santa Monica and see those flying machines being made. Give him a ride on the Mississippi and a look at Chicago's stockyards. Let him see the oil gushing out of Texas in pipe lines a continent long.

Make him stroll around a few of those mountains of sawdust in the Northwest, give him a long look at the steel mills of Pittsburgh, and invite him for a ride on a cotton-picking machine in Mississippi.

TAKE HIM to the bottom of the Homestake mine in South Dakota and let him heft one of the gold bricks coming from the ovens. Give him a look at Tucson in the Arizona desert, where the jets whir by. By all means invite him to Cape Canaveral.

Show him the aerial tankers swooshing in at Dayton and give him a glance at a few great universities. Let him get caught in a traffic jam and allow him to stick his nose in a chocolate ice-cream soda.

Be sure that he observes the youngsters wherever he goes having fun. Shoo away the protocol officers and let him talk to whichever down-trodden American worker he meets. Let him try to enlist one of these into the Communist party; let him hear the genuine American raspberry that'll result.

SOME hospitable American along the line will invite him to the house for dinner, or maybe a week end. Let him eat a few American meals, sleep on a first-class bed, and watch the dingbats in the kitchen doing the dirty work for the lady of the house.

Let him observe her pretty face, her lipstick, and her legs in nylon. Let him go down to the corner with the old man for a beer and a fill-in on how hard the average American works and why.

Let him observe that the citizens aren't afraid of the cops, but that they positively, most of the time, obey the traffic signals. Should he be here long enough, let him hear some political campaign speeches and, if possible, a debate between two contenders. He'll find it hard to believe his ears.

GIVE HIM the chance to hear some taxpayers grumble, to do some window shopping, and maybe buy himself a good pair of shoes. He'll not understand America even then, nor will he be frightened.

But he should get the idea that we don't scare easily, either, that we like it here, and that we're not quite as decadent as he thought. Just give him his vodka straight, is all, and save the tomato juice.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—For some years, and as though the plague were snapping at their heels, families have been moving out of New York in droves. Even though new apartment buildings are going up all over Manhattan, the fact is that the growth in the suburbs has been phenomenal and all kinds of committees and fact-finding bodies have the figures to prove it.

Families able to plunk down the initial payment and with enough economic stature to wangle a mortgage are to be found daily in a thrilled exodus from the city.

THERE IS, at hand, a small chunk of proof that, perhaps, we have too many new apartment buildings and instead of becoming tough about letting a family have a suite, landlords now are out beating the bushes to find tenants. The silver of proof is in a statement from a $75-million new lay-out called Washington Square Village. It says openly that it has suites for rent and, at the same time, discloses that disillusioned suburbanites are coming in every day to rent space.

THERE IS, they say, a definite move back to the city and the bloom is off the peachy suburbs. I couldn't agree more and I say now: the day my two young graduates from high school and are ready for college is the day Ma and I move back to town. I've had it. I expect thousands of other suburbanites have had it.

I asked WSV to give me some of the reasons why suburbanites are coming to them for help and space. And, culled from hundreds of anguished pleas for space, come these candid confessions.

"STRESSED in almost every one of the reasons is money. Tenants feel it is not more economical to own your own suburban home unless you happen to live across the street from where you work.

"The most popular reasons culled are: Owning a home of your own is great—for the plumber, electrician, carpenter, and painter. Spending so much time getting to and from the office that there's no time to spend at the office. Owning a home in the suburbs is great if you work across the street.

Mowing the lawn and tending the garden is great fun but the bills of the osteopath are no joke. Keeping up with the Joneses gets you completely out of breath—and into debt.

RUNNING a boarding-house for unrivited city week-end guests makes you feel more like a public innkeeper than a private home-owner.

Listening to all the problems of the neighbors drives you insane. If you say you have problems of your own, you are called antisocial. There's more privacy in the city. Life in the country is living in a fishbowl.

Maintaining one car is tough enough but in the suburbs everyone has two or more.

PAYING heavy taxes, interest and big mortgages takes all the joy out of owning your home. In fact, you get to resent your own poison-ivy covered cottage.

Traveling and playing janitor in your own home leave no time to play father, or husband.

Losing too much money in gin-rummy while commuting on the train, and guzzling too much on the way home strains your temper as well as your budget."

WASHINGTON—This ought to frizzle your hair. In the last year, with the coup already in the plotting stages, we gave Iraq nearly $30 million worth of planes, tanks, guns, and ammunition. Now you know which side has our deadly weapons.

But that isn't the worst of it. Right up to the moment of the outbreak, we were programming another $15,000,000 worth of war-making hardware for Iraq. The rebellion was at hand, but our Central Intelligence Agency didn't tell Congress a thing about it.

In the last couple of years, Iraq has gotten more than $40 million in strictly military aid from us. The warplanes that can bomb us, the tanks and guns that can mow us down, were given to Iraq through the State Department, in conjunction with the military.

CONGRESS wouldn't even have started programming the $15 million in military aid for this year if it had received even an inkling of a warning from the CIA. Our so-called "intelligence" outfit, which spends close to $400 million a year doing heaven knows what, either didn't know about the conspiracy brewing in Iraq, or neglected to tell Congress about it.

Many members of Congress, high in the councils of military planning and appropriations, say they have grave doubts as to whether the CIA told the White House either. These legislators say they have every reason to believe that the CIA didn't tell the President or Congress, because it was itself in unbelievable ignorance.

The nearly $30 million aid to Iraq last year was entirely in weapons of war—our finest, most modern bombers, tanks, and guns, made in this country. On top of this, it received economic aid, too. But the American public never is given a breakdown on foreign aid from the State Department. It lumps military aid with economic aid—and our people have to guess how much goes to help a recipient economically, and how much to enable it to make war.

Developments of the last two weeks would seem to indicate that our State Department gives weapons to a country without any true picture of its internal situation—or which side it is likely to wind up on.

Get this—and digest it, if you can! Many of the guns being used by the rebels in Lebanon are American guns.

JUST BEFORE the big blow-up in the Middle East, Senator Henry C. Dworshak, of Idaho, had a run-in with Secretary of State Dulles and a couple of the latter's subordinates. The State Department crew came to the Capitol to urge an increase in foreign aid funds for the Middle East. Senator Dworshak, ordinarily a quiet and contained gentleman, almost blew his nose cone.

The GOP solon demanded to know just why we should give more to the Middle East. The State Departmenters replied that increases were necessary to remedy the situations there.

This was too much for Senator Dworshak.

"Judging by developments," he retorted, "the treatment you have prescribed for the Middle East has been most ineffective. Now you want to increase the treatment."

"What would you think of a physician who gave a patient a certain medicine for a couple of years, and then, when the patient took a turn for the worse, said, 'The thing to do now is increase the dosage'?" Dulles & Company forbore from replying, but their silence did not appease the Idaho legislator.

Illinois Professor Claims "Krebiozen" May Prove Cure

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Scientific bird watchers have caught some of our little feathered friends—the robin, the bluebird, the flicker, etc.—giving aid and comfort to the viruses which cause an extremely uncomfortable and often fatal disease of people and horses.

The case against the birds is air-tight. The viruses have been found in their blood. But they are not the main accomplices of the criminals. The main accomplices seem to be two kinds of mosquitoes. One kind carries the viruses from bird to bird, and the other kind carries them from birds to people and horses—or at least the evidence so indicates.

The viruses are those which cause equine encephalitis and the scientific detective work was done by Massachusetts state public health scientists under the direction of Dr. Roy F. Feemster of the Harvard School of Public Health. It is one of the clearest demonstrations that science is going to be strained to deal effectively against the ways some disease causing viruses have of getting to people (and in this case, to horses.)

A person with equine encephalitis doesn't give it to another person nor to a horse; nor does a horse give it to another horse nor to a person. Then how do the viruses get around among people and horses? That has been a prime mystery for years. Now the scientists-detectives have come up with what looks like the full and correct answer.

Not all the evidence is conclusive but it explains most of the known peculiarities of equine encephalitis. The outbreaks are sporadic, occur in summer, and sometimes there are many years between them.

In a detailed report of their years-long detective work, Feemster and his associates pointed out that in summer drought years there have been no outbreaks of equine encephalitis. The outbreaks have come in years when spring and early summer rains were abundant.

Therefore, it was reasoned that rains filled up the swamps which then became fine breeding grounds and upped the mosquito population. This population reached high numbers at the time newly hatched birds were in their nests, defenseless against mosquitoes. So the viruses were spread widely among birds, and then by other mosquitoes—who sucked the virus crop from their blood—to people and horses.

More Movies, Quiz Shows Seem Due On Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Unless something exceptional occurs during the next month or so, the two rarest sights on television will be the live dramatic show and the sponsored show.

At this moment, approximately one third of what is considered prime viewing time (from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m.) remains unsold by the three major networks, according to a checkup by Variety, show business trade paper. This is about 75 million dollars worth of airtime and almost as many millions again in production costs. And if sponsors don't pick up the bills, the networks are certainly going to do some economizing — with results visible on the nation's home screens.

Network officials, of course, are not eager to spread word of the current problems. But an answer to the question of where the sponsors and their bankrolls have gone is offered by one inportant advertising agency executive whose job it is to watch television trends and currents. "One of the big reasons for sponsor resistance to television," he says "is that most clients and their agencies continue to look for another Gunsmoke, another I Love Lucy, another $64,000 Question."

The problem, continues the agency man, is that today programming generally has reached a point in quality where there are a lot of shows around, and all of them good.

"The whole thing has led to a leveling off. Clients are just not going to find any one outstanding show because almost all shows have reached a reasonably good level."

And of course, there is—or was—the recession.

"In the past, the way to build the medium was to cater to the advertising giants," he says. "And the advertising giants run like rabbits at the first sign of trouble. Television should have made more provisions for the small advertisers. The agencies right now are looking for ways to have more than two sponsors for a half hour show."

What will this mean to you and to me? Probably fewer expensive talent shows, more movies, more inexpensive panel, and audience participation shows — and more plugs for coming attractions instead of the regular commercials.

There is enough rubber in the landing gear system of a modern jet bomber to make 100 automobile tires.

County Probes Holders Of U. S. Gaming Stamps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Prince Georges County commissioners want an investigation made of 13 county businesses listed by the Internal Revenue Service as holders of $250 federal gambling tax stamps.

Baltimore officials, meanwhile, remained silent about an estimated 1,400 gambling stamps issued this year in the city, where gambling is illegal.

Neither Police Commissioner James M. Hepbron nor Chief Inspector Oscar L. Lusby was available for comment.

But State's Atty. J. Harold said yesterday he was sure there were plenty of payoffs on pinball machines in Baltimore because of the number of arrests made.

He said city police periodically check the list of federal tax stamps for leads on illegal gambling. But he added this had not been done for a year.

The city holds by far the largest number of the 2,068 stamps reported issued throughout Maryland. The stamps also are prominent in four Southern Maryland counties where slot machines are legal.

The three Prince Georges County commissioners who plan to press for an investigation are Lansdale G. Clagett, Frank J. Lastner and A. Preston Perrie. Pinball machines are permitted for amusement only in that county.

Perrie said the Board of Commissioners would discuss the issue after Board President Herbert W. Reichelt returns from vacation. The $250 stamps are required for coin-operated machines that pay off in cash, premiums, tokens or merchandise. The Internal Revenue Service does not enforce local gambling laws, but does prosecute violators who don't purchase the stamps.

Housewife Said Best Home Planner

"The classic example, of course, is the picture window that faces the street. For several years, every split-level ranch house in the country had to have a picture window, whether there was any picture to look at or not. People moved into the houses and put a lamp in the window to make it look pretty. Then they realized the whole world passing by could look in at the window, and privacy was just another word. So they hung curtains to cover the

New Baltimore Area Highway Is Planned

Survey In Corridor From Washington To State's Biggest City

BALTIMORE (AP) — A traffic survey on three major routes between Baltimore and Washington is being conducted by the State Roads Commission to collect data for the planning of new highways in the area.

Ernest W. Buting, assistant to the commission's traffic director, said that during the month-long survey motorists are being polled on the Baltimore-Washington Expressway, U. S. 1 and U. S. 29.

Drivers are asked the starting point and destination of their trips, and a record is made of the types of vehicles, the number of persons in the vehicles, and the state licenses.

Bunting said one purpose of the survey is to help the commission select the best location for new highways in the "Baltimore-Washington corridor" when traffic increases warrant additional routes. The roads official said traffic is picking up on the Baltimore-Washington Expressway and apparently leveling off on other roads. He said the expressway increase probably is due to the residential-business developments in areas adjacent to the highway.

Scientists Tab Birds As Carriers Of Viruses

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—In the view of Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, professor of physiology at the University of Illinois, scientists at the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research are proving he is right about the controversial cancer drug, "krebiozen," which has been rejected both by organized cancer research and by organized medicine.

Ivy has just advanced his views in a letter to Dr. Harold S. Diehl, vice president for research and medical affairs of the American Cancer Society. The society's scientific committee has been considering since February whether to give "krebiozen" a "double blind test" that would establish once and for all whether it is effective against cancer or worthless.

Have Natural Defenses

Ivy quoted from a recently published Sloan-Kettering research report which not only said "there is reason to believe" animal bodies have natural chemical defenses against cancer, but their scientists by "manipulating and enhancing these defenses" in laboratory animals, had cured the animals of some types of experimental cancers.

Since 1925, Ivy said, he has been teaching that the human body has natural chemical defenses because "perhaps in one out of 100,000 cases the body of the patient cures itself of cancer." This is the theory upon which "krebiozen" is based, Ivy said he was "gratified" the Sloan-Kettering report "as far as it goes" confirms the theory.

He pointed to the Sloan-Kettering announcement that zymosan, a substance taken from yeast, stimulated the natural chemical cancer defenses of mice, "tipping the scales in favor of the endangered host and against the cancer." Sloan-Kettering added that zymosan was too toxic to use in human beings with cancer.

Also Too Toxic

Ivy said "krebiozen" was derived from a mold, "a relative of yeasts." This mold also is too toxic for human use, he said. But when it is injected into horses, it stimulates their chemistry into manufacturing the specific cancer defense chemical, which is "krebiozen," he said.

In 1951, when the controversy began, Ivy had said krebiozen "may prove to be a key to the cure" and perhaps the prevention of cancer, and it is now "my considered and sincere conviction that krebiozen represents the only presently available fruit of this new understanding of the problem of cancer to which the Sloan-Kettering researchers are contributing so outstandingly."

Charleston Statehouse

By JERRY GOULD
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Inside the Statehouse: The statehouse telephone operators should have the plaudits of a Pennsylvania woman for their actions last week. One of the operators saw flames coming from the front of a vehicle the woman was driving west on Kanawha Boulevard.

Dora Burgess placed a hurried call for the fire department. The blaze was quickly extinguished and the woman was on her way after minor repairs.

"Just another call in our day's work," smiled Dora.

Those who will visit the office of State Beer Commissioner Roy D. Platt in the near future will get a pleasant surprise.

The room adjacent to the commissioner's office is gradually being transformed from a maze of chairs, desks and file cabinets into a spacious reception room. Drapes were hung last week and the license department moved to another room. Secretary F. A. Bowman said carpeting and possibly a new paint job will complete the transition.

Legislative Auditor C. H. Koonz was presented with a new set of silver book ends last week by his 18-member staff to mark 25 years of service in the state government.

Koonz compliments his staff after the presentation and reminded that his office is run on a non-political basis.

"We are too busy to play politics," Koonz said. "We serve both Democrat and Republican members of the Legislature."

The 77-year-old Koonz noted that the oldest employee in point of service and "one of the most valuable" in his department was a Republican with 28 years of service.

Governor Underwood's Girl Friday—Alma Sleboda—is taking a week away from the hustle and bustle of the statehouse.

The Beckley native and husband John — a Carbide employee — are vacationing at Watoga State Park near Marlinton.

Alma is the governor's executive secretary and also served for 15 years as secretary of former Judge J. W. Maxwell of Beckley.

The State Conservation Commission received a letter from a Braxton County youth last week with $1.50 enclosed for a present for his mother.

The letter, written to General Manager, Antic Shop, Blackwater Falls, went like this:

"I am a little boy 10 years old and was at your place sight seeing, and did not have no money then, but now I have $1.50 and am sending it to you I saw a turkey hen and a gobbler in a little box I want to give to my mother for birthday present the price on it was $1.02.

"Will you please mail it to me, if you don't have it now can you get me one real soon. My dad or mom don't no I wrote this, I cut grass for Grandpa and got my money. Hope I get it soon.

"P.S. What ever they is left, keep it for your trouble."

The commission is complying with the little boy's request and his change will be returned.

Four Schools To Be Painted

Painting contractors may obtain detailed specifications from the Board of Education office, 108 Washington Street. The board reserves the right to reject any and/or all bids.

Freak Wind Topples Over 13 Buildings

BERLIN, Md. (AP)—A sudden blast of wind flattened 13 buildings and killed 20,000 chickens on two Eastern Shore farms yesterday, causing an estimated $70,000 damage.

State Police, in giving the damage estimate, said the freak wind could not be classified as a tornado.

The storm was confined to a small rural area about a mile north of Showell, in Worcester County.

Seven structures were blown down on the farm of Raymond Baker. The other six were destroyed on the farm of Eliza Bunting. Most of the poultry on both farms were destroyed.

No injuries were reported.

Teamsters Get Wage Increase

Teamsters' Local 453 has accepted a proposal for a three-cent hourly wage increase for employees of Koppers Company, Wood, Preserving Division, at Green Spring.

The new one-year contract, retroactive to June 1 when the present pact expired, also includes payment of an additional $3.25 by the company toward employees' insurance, a reopening clause in event of emergency, and a cost-of-living clause.

The Koppers Company plant is a tie-treating operation which employs 80 persons. Approximately 65 or 70 of these employees are members of the Teamsters local.

Fossil Man Still Alive?

Soviet scientists have reported that primitive, Neanderthal-type men are still living in the deserts of central Mongolia. (See map.)

Quoting a Mongolian scientist, who called the creatures "almas," the Russians said they "very much resemble human beings, but their bodies are covered with a thin reddish-black hair. . . . They have powerful jaws and low foreheads." Neanderthal man lived in the time of the Old Stone Age. Picture at right is figure in the Chicago Museum of Natural history. Last year the Russians reported the existence of "abominable snowmen" in the Himalayas, somewhat resembling the Mongolian "alma." A recent American expedition reported evidence of the existence of snowmen, but no actual sighting.

Minnesota's Catch

ST. PAUL, Minn.—(UPI)—About 1,300,000 persons fish in Minnesota's lakes and rivers each year and spend approximately 100 million dollars annually on the sport, according to the state's Fish and Game Department.

The Twentieth Century Fund estimates that only two per cent of the earth's total surface is fully suited to agricultural production.

Chemise Dress And Song Causes Battle On Street

BALTIMORE (AP)—The argument over chemise dresses started when Anne Campbell walked down the street wearing one of the new styles.

Mary Tunnell, sitting on the front steps of her rowhouse home, hummed a new song called "No Chemise, Please" and the battle was on. In the struggle, Miss Campbell bit off a large portion of Miss Tunnell's right ear.

In Pine Street Court yesterday, Miss Campbell was held in $600 bail for grand jury action on a little-used charge of mayhem. She pleaded guilty to the mayhem of at least four candidates, and charge but innocent to a charge of disorderly conduct.

Miss Tunnell was held in $100 bail after pleading guilty to disorderly conduct.

Poll Shows Apathy

Toward Primaries

KANSAS CITY (AP)—City Councilman Harry S. Davis said today he had found an alarming degree of apathy concerning the Republican and Democratic primaries Aug. 5. He polled 30 of his friends and found only one remembered the primary date, only five could tell him the names of at least four candidates, and six weren't even registered.

Industrial Boulevard Work May Be Held Up

SRC Tells Council General Assembly Must Provide Funds At Next Session

The State Roads Commission in a letter to the Mayor and Council today said there is little likelihood of extensive work on the Industrial Boulevard during the next fiscal year unless the General Assembly provides additional funds in its 1959 session.

The SRC, in a letter signed by Norman O. Pritchett, chief engineer, said it is possible that certain construction problems may cause an extension of the boulevard approximately one block west of the present contract limit.

It is also possible several minor adjustments will be required in several areas where excess excavation on the boulevard will be put in place for later construction of an extension to the downtown area.

Utility Work Minor

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum explained that the excess material referred by the SRC was 75,000 yards of dirt to be placed in the vicinity of the old mid-city ball park for use on construction of the boulevard.

In an attached letter, Nuzum told council any relocation of utilities in connection with the proposed change would be minor and could be handled under the normal sewer budget appropriation.

City officials recently went to Baltimore for a briefing on the entire Cumberland Thruway picture. The Industrial Boulevard is a part of the overall Thruway.

Several routine matters came before council this morning.

The payroll for the last two weeks of July was approved.

Payments authorized included $30 to Lottie O. Richards for a water tap which was not used; and $57.60 to Chester F. Brant and Elsie A. Brant as a refund for sewer front footage on Maple Street with the understanding if the sewer is ever located in front of the property and tapped by the owner, the city will be paid $37.60 plus the tappage fee then in effect.

The Hermanettes softball team expressed appreciation for services donated by members of the Police Department at a recent game, proceeds from which will be used to defray expenses of the team at the state girls' softball tournament in Baltimore August 2-3.

Council Gets Many Matters To Consider

Weeds, Mosquitos, Traffic Lights Figure In Meeting

Members of the Mayor and Council and several residents spoke out on several subjects at today's regular session.

Street Commissioner John J. Long said the county had been receiving a number of calls on complaints against mosquitos and weeds and asked that city residents direct their protests to the City Engineer who would look into them.

Long said the city takes care of weeds and mosquito conditions on city-owned property but where private property is involved correction of the conditions are the responsibility of the property owner.

Guy Clark of 300 South Street appeared to ask what had been done concerning his requests for a traffic light at Laing and Virginia Avenues and more policemen for South End.

No Additional Men

The request had been referred to Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming who was absent today because of illness. Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn told council that the department does not have additional men to place on duty in South End.

In reference to the light, he said a check of a similar request for another section recently revealed a light would cost $750 and estimated the one in South End would cost $600. Flynn said it is a money question and if council could provide it, the light would be installed.

However, City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum reported that during the remainder of the summer and into the winter, work will be underway on the Industrial Boulevard segment entering that South End area. Any light installed will be necessarily out of operation for long periods of time, he said. One reason for this, he added, will be the widening of Virginia Avenue between Laing and Fifth Street, work on which might have started today. For this reason, Nuzum stated he did not believe a light would be too functional at this time.

Sewer Backs Up

Asa Combs, 138 Seymour Street, complained of a Fifth Street sewer backing up into his basement during heavy rains. The matter was referred to Long and Nuzum.

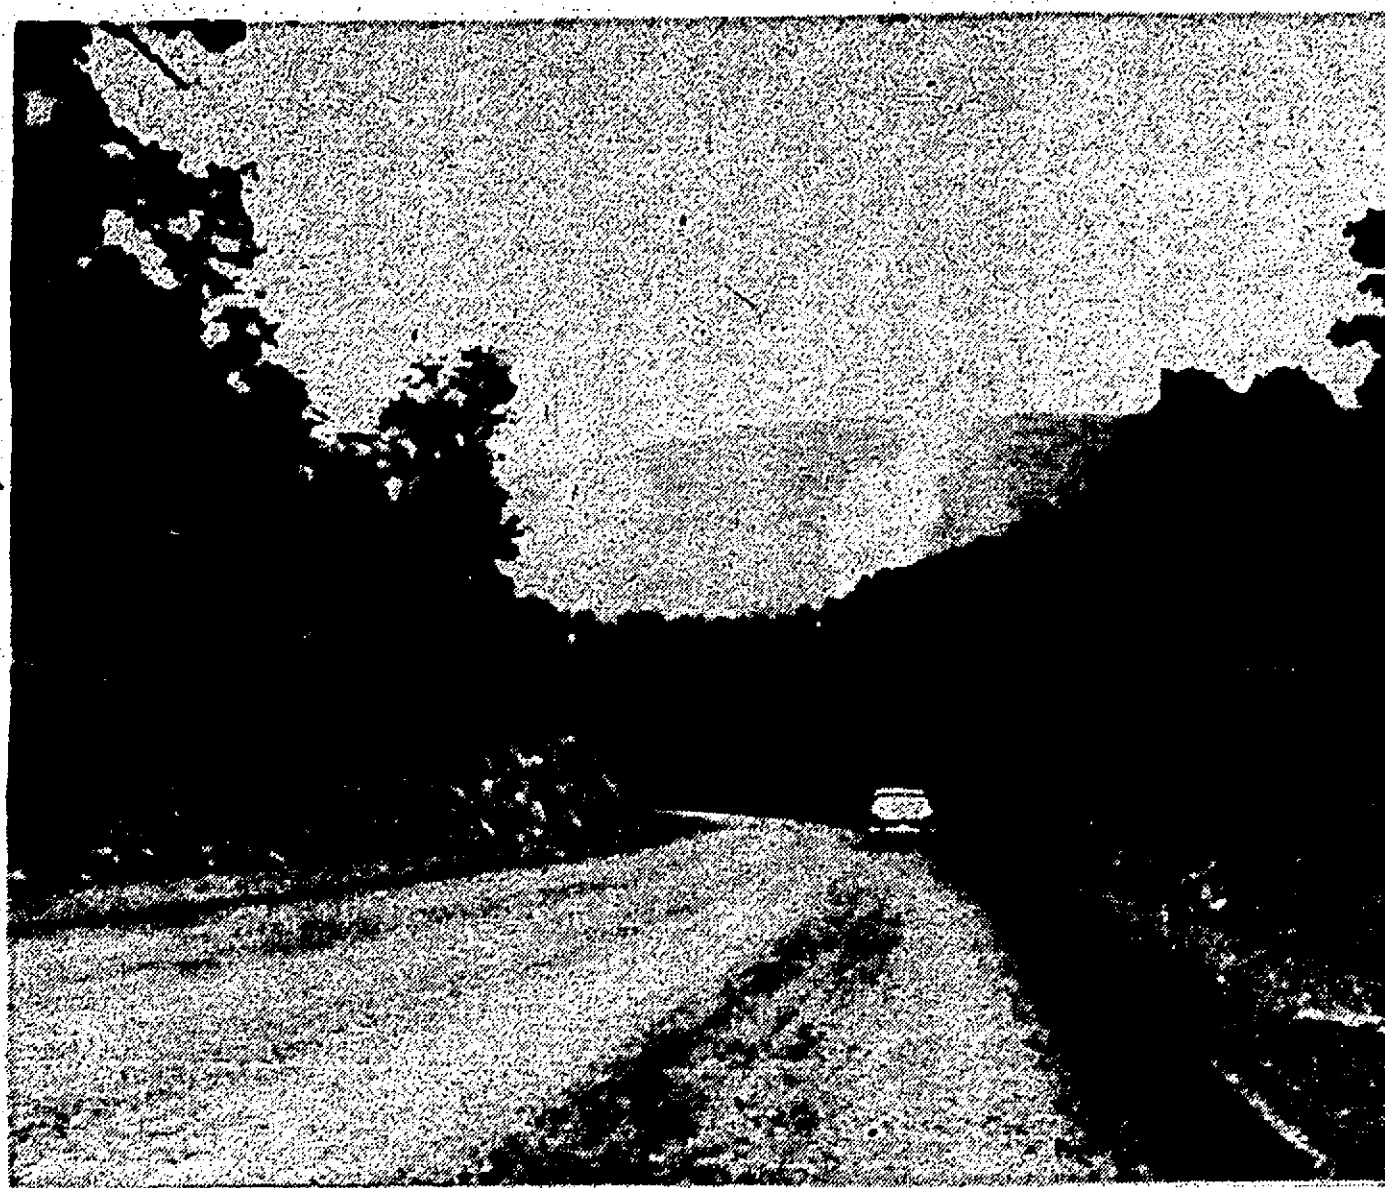

T. L. Lowery 714 Frederick Street, asked again about his request for damages as the result of injury to his property from vibration caused by street traffic. Lowery also told council a committee would appear soon to find out why the city is operating the sewage treatment plant when it can be leased to a private concern and the city get revenue from it. He also said the city should look into the sale of sludge taken from the plant as fertilizer.

A lighter touch was added to the proceedings by J. H. Frost of 308 Central Avenue, who said he had no complaint but just dropped in to "look you over."

After suggesting that council install a loudspeaker system so folks in the audience could hear proceedings and adding that without a speaker "It sounds like a beehive."

Frost said he "got the ticket, he wanted it in city office" but "I only voted for one of you." This happened because of a mistake in the operation of the voting machine. Frost explained he thought when he pushed the lever over a name, he had to also pull the lever which opens the curtain. He did this

Ryan Named To City Civil Service Board

Council Approves Hiring Of Temporary Engineering Aide

Fred E. Ryan, 137 Arch Street, was reappointed for a six-year term to the Civil Service Commission today by the Mayor and Council.

The new term, Ryan's second, will expire in 1964. Ryan had been chairman of the commission the last two years and continues to serve with Francis A. Kenney, present chairman, whose term expires in 1960, and Ralph R. Webster whose term expires in 1962.

The Civil Service post pays $25 a month. Council also approved the appointment of William R. Hudson as temporary draftsman in the Engineering Department for the period July 21-September 11. His salary will be $300 monthly.

Insurance Bid Accepted

On another matter, the bid of Nationwide Insurance Company in the amount of $2,752 was accepted for insurance coverage of the city motorized fleet for one year. Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder said the bid was $321 lower than other bids submitted.

The resignation of Captain Thomas Lindner from the Fire Department was accepted. Lindner has accepted a position at Allegheny Ballistics Laboratory and is ending 16 years in city service.

Sewer Work Paid

Council approved partial payment of $4,634.68 to Orrie Sensenbaur for work on the Clement Street sewer. City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum said cost of the sewer will be charged to property owners and indicated that a request to cover the final payment would be introduced next week or the week following. The job is 90 per cent complete and today's authorized payment will cover 75 per cent of the cost, he said.

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson said only about $5,000 remains in that particular fund and the city should find additional money if another payment request is forthcoming. The project was approved during the previous administration, it was pointed out.

LaVale Firemen Conduct Drills

The LaVale Volunteer Fire Company conducted fire drills last week for 13 members.

Under the direction of Chief James Loar, the group received instructions on the use of air packs, pumping water from streams and the use of booster lines.

Assistant Chief Ralph Dellagatti Sr. gave driver instructions for operators of the company's three vehicles.

Loar commented on the fire safety consciousness of the residents of LaVale, but asked that in time of emergency for them to be accurate on the location of the blaze when calling the fire hall.

Report Of Theft

City Police are investigating the theft of a sum of money from a soft drink machine in a service station at the intersection of North Mechanic and Centre Streets.

Bloomington Road Job Delayed By Weather

The construction of the new highway up Backbone Mountain from Bloomington has been delayed by a combination of bad weather, coal mine pits under the terrain and a bad soil condition, according to G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission.

Chaires said the grading has been completed on the project and it had been hoped to have the surfacing well underway by this time.

Recent heavy rains have prevented the laying of blacktop. It is hoped to complete the project by fall.

Chaires also reported that the Route 36 project from Corriganville to U. S. Route 40 and a short section of Route 40 in the Narrows will probably be completed late in August.

Curve Eliminated

A dangerous curve at the intersection of the two highways has been eliminated by cutting back a large section of the wall and embankment on the south side of the roadway.

Excellent progress was reported by Chaires on the Polish Mountain project and he said the surfacing of the newly built highway will be completed in four or five weeks. The entire project will have been completed by fall, he added.

Two highway projects, the Industrial Boulevard in Cumberland and the modernization of U. S. Route 40 from Narrows Park to Long, will probably get underway in a short time, according to Chaires.

Property Deeded

Several pieces of property in the LaVale area where the new U. S. Route 40 modernization is slated have been deeded to the State Roads Commission by the owners in papers filed at the Court House today.

Howard R. and Helen E. Zarger deeded one piece of land, while George A. Dressman, et ux and et al. have deeded two pieces of property.

Meter Receipts Up

Parking Meter Inspector Harry Whisner reported to the Mayor and Council receipts of $829.51 the week of July 20 compared to $799.83 the week of July 13, an increase of $29.68.

The new setup is handled by seven women, four answering telephone calls from customers, two punching perforated tape to Philadelphia and three accepting orders from persons coming into the store.

In the past an order would take from three to four days to arrive in Cumberland. With the installation of the teletype machine, Sears has signed a

Truman Sets Dinner Date At Pikesville

A letter confirming his speech before Maryland Democrats at a $100-a-plate campaign dinner has been received by the Tawes campaign committee, from ex-President Harry S. Truman, Thomas B. Finan, chairman, for the state's 23 counties revealed today.

The committee at its last meeting in Baltimore over the week end set the time of the event, expected to attract over a thousand party supporters for Friday, September 19, in the Pikesville Armory.

Finan said Allegany County will have a good representation at the event being held in behalf of the campaign for J. Millard Tawes for Governor, C. Ferdinand Sybert for attorney general, Louis Goldstein for comptroller general and Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro for U. S. senator.

Local Library Has Another Banner Year

Increase Noted In Use Of Books At Three Sites

Cumberland Free Public Library had another banner year in 1957-58, the annual report given by Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, indicated today.

The report covered activities of the main library on Washington Street and branches at Pennsylvania Avenue School and John Humbird School.

Among the main points brought out in the report were that total volumes increased from 39,709 to 81,940; the average daily circulation was 889.5 including 59,170 adult volumes; 212,113 juvenile for a total of 271,283; and that there are 9,120 borrowers, registered since the new registration period began in 1956.

Appreciation Expressed

Appreciation was expressed both to the Mayor and Council and the Board of Allegany County Commissioners for their cooperation. The year was highlighted by many unusual gifts from organizations and individuals.

The report of the 34th year of library operation pointed out it has become impossible to serve the community adequately on its present budget. It said both the library and staff are too small to meet needs and requested an additional trained worker. More funds are also needed to improve physical equipment of the library and it believed an appropriation of $1 per capita would be sufficient to serve the community although it is only one-third the amount recommended by the American Library Association.

To Replace Members

It was pointed out council must appoint two new members of the Board of Directors to replace John J. Tipton, secretary for 35 years, and Lewyn C. Davis, treasurer since 1953, who died during the year.

Officers are James Alfred Avirett, president; Mrs. Charles L. Kopp, vice president; Dr. Lillian C. Compton, secretary; and Julius Schindler, treasurer. Members of the Board of Directors are Avirett, Dr. Compton, Mrs. Kopp, Mrs. Thomas McCleary, Wallace McKaig, Schindler and Wilbur V. Wilson.

Points To Progress

"We are presenting facts in our advertising," said the reply from Offutt, "and if facts sound like news, it is not merely coincidental. Facts make news. Many an announcement of industrial progress, for example, makes its first appearance in a company advertisement."

"I do not believe it is the form of sponsor identification which really irks the Tawes group. It is the facts of the progress that is being made in the Devereux campaign."

"It is time for Mr. Finan and the other potential statement-makers to tell Mr. Tawes to come out of his shell and get into his own campaign."

Says Demos Antiquated

"If we wanted to be as antiquated as the Democratic clique of control, we would not engage a modern advertising agency. We would use a messenger boy."

J. Millard Tawes is the Democratic nominee for governor. Another GOP spokesman said earlier Finan's charges were utterly absurd.

Finan likened the incident to the fake photograph episode in the 1950 senatorial campaign in Maryland. A composite photograph showed Democrat Millard Tydings supposedly clumming with Communist Earl Browder. Democrats raised the roof about it, contending it directly led to Tydings' defeat at the hands of Republican John Butler.

Finan Points To Admission Of Integrity

County Democratic Chairman Keeps Ball Rolling Against GOP

"The first time I have ever heard integrity termed antiquated," Thomas B. Finan, local attorney who is chairman of the Maryland Democratic Party's campaign in the state's 23 counties, commented today concerning the type of campaign being conducted by J. Millard Tawes and his ticket.

Saturday, Finan charged the Republicans tried to disguise their political announcements on radio and television as news, and a number of top stations refused to accept their copy.

Thomas W. Offutt, campaign manager, for the Republican nominee for governor, James P. S. Devereux said yesterday:

"Lustreless"

"We will not be bamboozled by the Tawes committee and its hatchetmen into the lustreless, stereotyped kind of political announcements in which its candidates have been bogged down for a quarter of a century or so. We are well within the law. So are the radio stations," Offutt declared.

But Finan said today after reading the Republican comments:

"I read with considerable interest the lame reply which Devereux's headquarters made to the accusations of the Democratic headquarters that GOP representatives endeavored to place political broadcasts on the air under the guise of news items, and without sponsor identification. —that is, identification as a political ad."

Cites Admission

"The answer given by Republican headquarters, in effect, tacitly admits that this was done, but that it was just smart advertising and that the methods used by Mr. Tawes' headquarters were antiquated."

"This is the first time that I have ever heard integrity termed antiquated, but then, I presume the Republicans know what they are talking about in this latter regard."

The charge and counter-charge began Saturday when Finan called attention to an article in Broadcasting.

The radio-television trade magazine said — according to Finan — that a Baltimore publicity agency representing Devereux had tried to place spot announcements as news with radio stations in the Washington area and possibly elsewhere.

Finan said the copy stipulated there was to be no announcement before or after the broadcast stating it was a paid political announcement.

Points To Progress

"We are presenting facts in our advertising," said the reply from Offutt, "and if facts sound like news, it is not merely coincidental. Facts make news. Many an announcement of industrial progress, for example, makes its first appearance in a company advertisement."

Young Motorist Jailed For Obscene Language

A 17-year-old Clarysville youth was sentenced to 60 days in the County Jail on a charge of using obscene language in court resulting from remarks made today before Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick during a hearing on a motor vehicle violation case.

Remanded to the lockup in default of $200 bond was Richard Hugh Perry, who was arrested Saturday night by State Trooper Joseph Stakem.

At this morning's hearing, Trooper Stakem charged Perry with operating a vehicle without a permit, and with using license plates that had been issued to another automobile.

Two Shoplifters Given Hearing, One Gets Term

One of two out-of-town men who were charged with shoplifting was given 60 days in the County Jail at a hearing this morning before Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick, the other man praying a jury trial.

Donald Johnson, of Kansas City, Mo., pleaded guilty to taking an electric iron Saturday from the Montgomery Ward Company store here.

According to City Detective Thomas J. See, the men were seen taking the iron and leaving the building after placing the item in a shopping bag.

Praying a jury trial, and remanded to the County Jail for the October term of court, was Louis Cox, of RD 2, Bath, N. C. Court attaches said Cox made the remark that he was "afraid" to enter a plea this morning because he thought he would be given a six-month sentence.

A Frostrburg man, Roy Lee Van Meter, was given a suspended three-month sentence by Trial Magistrate Morris Baron after pleading guilty to the theft of a tool kit on July 19 from Francis E. Kuns, also of Frostrburg.

The magistrate suspended the sentence after being informed restitution had been made, and that Van Meter was in need of medical attention.

Power Shovel Stuck In Creek

A large power shovel of the E. J. Albrecht Company, contractor on several phases of the Cumberland flood control project, is still resting in several feet of water in Wills Creek just below the B&O Railroad viaduct.
The machine was being maneuvered into position when one of the caterpillar treads missed the pavement in the creek bed and sank into the soft ground.
The device was tilted and then water seeping from a nearby coffer dam rose to a foot or so into the cab of the shovel.
Injured In Mishap
Donald Smith, 18, of 44 Marion Street, was admitted yesterday to Memorial Hospital for treatment of a left arm injury suffered in an automobile accident.

West Virginia Man Drowns In Potomac

Billy Simmons, 23-year-old Franklin, W. Va., area farmer, drowned yesterday afternoon in the South Branch of the Potomac River near the Virginia-West Virginia state line.
He was a son of Mrs. Kate (Maury) Simmons, with whom he resided, and the late Luther Simmons.
Authorities said young Simmons and a companion, Miss Ethel Fleisher of Blue Grass, Va., were picnicking with a Sunday School group and were the first to arrive at a swimming site known as Beaver Dam.
The Fleisher girl said Simmons apparently slipped off a rock into about 15 feet of water. His body failed to come up and she ran for help, authorities said. Two members of the Sunday School group, Carl Samples and Thomas Toochman, both of Blue Grass, recovered the body.
The Franklin, W. Va., Volunteer Fire Company was summoned but members were unable to revive Simmons with a respirator.
The body is at the Brown Funeral Home, Franklin.

"I voted for her four times," he said. (Actually, by this procedure, it meant only one vote for Mrs. Roeder and none for the other incumbents.)
However, continued Trost, he got the ticket he wanted, and added if they don't do any better than the other crew, they ought to be thrown out in six months. Then he turned and walked out of the council chamber.

Aaron Keeps Front Door Open For Milwaukee

Hank Stars In 4-1 Win For Braves Over Cubs

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International
Hear all that hammering? It's only Hank Aaron keeping the front door open for the Milwaukee Braves and preventing National League pitchers from getting any sleep.
Aaron did some pretty loud knocking Sunday when he drove in three runs with a homer and a single that beat the Cubs, 4-1, and moved the Braves a full game in front.

CHINESE PRISONER VISITS BUCS — Father Cyril Wagner (left), prisoner of the Chinese Communists for six years, chats with Pirate home run hitter Frankie Thomas in dugout before yesterday's doubleheader with the San Francisco Giants at Pittsburgh. Father Wagner said this was the first baseball game he had seen shortly before he left for China. The Pirates won the opener in 14 innings. Nightcap was tied when play halted. (AP Photo/fox)

For what they're worth, here are some observations — purely personal — made while sitting with the pigeons on the third deck at Forbes Field yesterday during the Pittsburgh-San Francisco doubleheader.

The Giants can't possibly stay in the thick of the National League pennant scramble if the defensive play they exhibited yesterday is any indication of their outfield strength.

To begin with, Willie Kirkland made a Little League throw home, allowing Frank Thomas to score the winning run on Dick Groat's sacrifice fly to right in the 14th inning of the first game.

With the bases full of Pirates and only one out, the Giant infield was drawn in and the outfield shallow. Groat's drive would have almost certainly been a single under normal circumstances but Kirkland took the ball in his tracks and then cut loose a peg that found the ball practically rolling to the plate.

In the 13th inning, Pittsburgh's Bill Virdon sent a high fly to shallow left. Felipe Alou, who had been inserted into the San Francisco lineup for defensive purposes, appeared to have an easy catch but dropped the ball.

In the sixth inning of the second game, Lew Wagner charged in from left and waded off shortstop Daryl Spencer, signifying that the popout of the bat of Bob Skinner would be routine. But Wagner didn't even get close to the ball and Skinner had a double.

Of course, Wagner and Alou are both rookies and can be forgiven for such mistakes. But the Pirates' Virdon, a veteran, could hardly be excused for a couple of "rocks" he pulled.

On the ball that Alou muffed, Virdon should have been standing on second base. Instead, he loafed, merely trotting towards second and as a result was an easy out at the keystone.

Virdon could have scored in the first inning of the thrilling lidlifter had he been hustling. With two out, Skinner sent a bouncer back of first. Orlando Cepeda (another SF rookie) tried to beat Bob to the bag but lost the race. Virdon, who was on second when Skinner hit the ball, looked more like a spectator than a base-runner. Instead of hustling around the hot corner, he paused to watch the play at first and consequently had to hold up.

You just don't expect to see that kind of playing in the majors.

There was, however, action that is expected of major leaguers.

The many area fans who were among the Sabbath turnout of 21,718 saw Willie Mays perform in his usual brilliant fashion. The Giant's spectacular center fielder did just about everything for which he is noted, except hit a homer and run out from under his cap.

He stole a base, cut down Groat with a bullseye throw when Dick tried to go from first to third on Dick Hall's single, made several hard catches look easy and collected four hits for the afternoon to make his season's batting average .347.

Dick Stuart, the highly-publicized slugger the Pirates recently brought up, also gave the big crowd a taste of his long-ball ability. Dick cracked a three-bagger to right-center in the first game and hit the left-center wall for a double in the second, both of the drives being well over 400 feet and both coming on counts of 2-2.

Dick, who has already clubbed five homers during his brief time with the Pirates, doesn't exactly perform like a Hal Chase at first base but judging from his play yesterday, we'd say his work is adequate. He should pick up polish if he continues to play.

Had a chat with Groat, Thomas and Ronnie Kline in the Pirate clubhouse after the game. These three are "regulars" at Dapper Dan dinners here and asked to be remembered to their Cumberland friends.

Groat was moaning about his hitting in yesterday's twin bill in spite of the fact that he was the hero of the opener. "I thought I was on my way in recent games," Dick said. "I was meeting the ball well even when not getting hits, but today I just couldn't seem to do anything right."

At present, the Pirate shortstop and captain is hitting about .270. Last year, he was one of the National League's top hitters.

Kline, who pitched well enough in the opener to win most of his starts but was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the seventh, says he hopes to return to Cumberland for the next Dapper Dan dinner. He was unable to attend this year's affair, being "snowed in."

Thomas, who cracked his 28th homer to tie the suspended nipper at 3-3, was beset by youth-

Eastern Open Won By Wall In Overtime

BALTIMORE (AP)—Fondling a new check for $2,800, Art Wall Jr. must be thinking sweet thoughts today of a druggist at Honesdale, Pa.

The check is Wall's prize for defeating Bob Rosburg and Jack Burke Sunday on the first hole of a spine-tling sudden-death playoff in the Eastern Open Golf Tournament.

The druggist is George Lang, a long-time friend of Art's father. Lang once owned the antique wooden-shafted putter with which Wall Sunday sank an eight-foot birdie putt on the first extra hole at Mt. Pleasant golf course. He gave the club to Art for a Christmas present 13 years ago.

Rosburg and Burke matched par 5 on the showdown hole after they and Wall each had fired a 5-under-par 67 to finish the regulation holes all even at 276.

Earlier, Wall had canned a 15-footer for a birdie on the last green to gain the tie, Rosburg, playing with him in the next-to-last three-some on the course, also birdied the final hole, dropping a six-foot putt.

Gary Player, the bouncy little South African who had led the field by one stroke going into the last round, staged a rousing finish by birdying the last two holes.

But his 69 was good enough for only a 277 total and fourth place. Jim Ferree of Winston-Salem, N. C., also posted a final round 67 to finish with Mike Fetchick in a tie for fifth at 283. Fetchick had 71 Sunday.

United States Holding Slight Lead Over Russian Trackmen

MOSCOW (UPI)—A surprising showing by the supposedly weak American women gave the United States track and field team some hope today of beating the Russian team even under the scoring system the Russians are using.

The Soviets — much stronger in women's events than in men's — say women for the two divisions should be combined. Under that system, the United States held an unexpected 83-75 lead going into today's concluding program at huge Lenin Stadium.

The Americans say that points should be counted separately. Under that system, the U. S. men were leading, 61 - 45, in their events; the Russian women were leading, 30-22, in their events.

The surprising U. S. lead after the first day was the result of two upset wins by American women — lanky Barbara Jones of Chicago, who took the meter dash in 11.6 seconds, and the women's 400 meter relay.

Down The Wire

In the events that wind up the two-day meet today, the United States was favored to win six men's events, the Russians favored in four; and two were wide open. In women's competition, the Russians were favored in four and the Americans are given a chance in only one, the shot put.

That forecast indicated a nip-and-tuck race down the wire for the team title.

If so, the victory could hinge on the one dispute Sunday — the disqualification of Gordon McKenzie of New York in the 10,000 meter run. McKenzie slowed to a trot because he was far behind and officials ruled him out, costing the United States team one point.

The final result also could hinge on the outcome of the spectacular decathlon duel between Raser Johnson of Kingsburg, Calif., and Russia's Vassily Kuznetsov.

Yanks Win Seven Of Ten

After the first five events Sunday, Johnson was slightly ahead with 4,529 points to Kuznetsov's 4,420.

Americans won seven of the 10 men's events contested Sunday and surprised by taking two of the five women's events.

Among the men, Harold Connolly of Boston took the hammer throw with a heave of 230 feet, 8 inches; Ira Murchison of Chicago won the 100 meter dash in 10.2 seconds; Ansel Robinson of Fresno, Calif., won the 110 meter high hurdles in 13.9 seconds; Ernie Shelby of Los Angeles won the broad jump with 26 feet, 3/4 inch; Glenn Davis of Columbus, Ohio, won the 400 meter run in 45.6 seconds; Parry O'Brien of Los Angeles won the shot put with a toss of 62.78 feet; and the 400-meter relay team of Murchison, Ed Collymore of Cambridge, Mass., Jim Segrot of Abilene, Christian, and Davis won in 39.6 seconds.

Valdimir Bulgakov of Russia surprised by winning the pole vault with a leap of 14 feet, 9 1/4 inches. As expected, Leonid Spiridon of Russia won the 20 kilometer walk in 1:33.43.2 and Evgeny Zukov of Russia won the 10,000 meter run in 29:59.8.

Braves Lead Loop Despite Run Injuries

By CHUCK CAPALDO
Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP) — If the Milwaukee Braves win the National League pennant again this year, they'll do so with a bigger cast of walking wounded than played roles in the 1957 championship.

Toward the close of last season, Braves Manager Fred Haney observed that in all his years in baseball he'd never experienced such a run of injuries. He spoke too soon, a season too soon.

This year his regulars have played together in only five of the club's 93 games to date. He fielded his regulars for the first 17 games of the '57 campaign before he was "forced to go to his bench for help."

The regulars include either Frank Torre or Joe Adcock at first; Del Crandall or Del Rice behind the plate; Wes Covington, Billy Bruton and Hank Aaron in the outfield; Red Schoendienst at second; Eddie Mathews at third; and Johnny Logan at short.

Of the 93 games played to date, only Aaron with 92, Logan with 91 and Mathews with 89 have appeared with any degree of regularity.

Among those not expected to share their positions, Schoendienst has appeared in only 54 games, Bruton in 51 and Covington in 52. Andy Pafko, 37-year-old spare outfielder, has been in 55 games—more than any of the three.

While the Braves play the International League All-Stars in Toronto today, three of Haney's amputated cases will visit Dr. Bruce Brewer here for checkups. They include Pafko, with the left side of his face puffed up from being hit by a thrown ball Thursday night, and Covington and Bruton for old knee injuries.

So far this season key players who have missed 10 or more games because of injuries include Covington, Bruton, Schoendienst, Bob Buhl and Torre.

"I've never seen anything like it," said Haney.

Dressen Seen New Pilot Unless Dodgers Improve

NEW YORK (UPI)—Walter O'Malley is "ready to make a change" and manager Walt Alston is "it"—unless the last-place Los Angeles Dodgers do a complete turnabout in the next 10 days—the United Press International learned on excellent authority today.

Should the Dodgers show no marked improvement during that time, a new manager probably will be named to coincide with the club's return home to Los Angeles on Aug. 8, according to the source.

O'Malley's likely choice as Alston's successor will be Los Angeles Coach Charles Dressen, whom Alston replaced as Dodger manager in 1954. Two other men—Bobby Bragan and Leo Durocher—also are in the managerial picture.

"That recent vote of confidence the Dodgers gave Alston was tantamount to handing him his hat," said the UPI source.

O'Malley already has decided to make a change and he's debating among three choices — Dressen, Bragan and Durocher.

"All three are popular on the West Coast. Durocher might prove too hard to get. Bragan is in the Dodgers' system at Spokane and could be brought in easily, but Dressen is right there with the club and O'Malley still thinks the highly of him despite their past differences, so he looks like the logical man."

Alston, who is operating on one of those famous one-year contracts O'Malley hands out, will be offered a place in the Dodgers' organization from which he emerged to lead the team to its only world championship in 1955. Since taking over as Dodger manager, Alston has made a good thing.

showing every year except this one.

He finished second in 1954; won the pennant and the World Series against the Yankees in 1955; won the pennant again in 1956 but lost the World Series, and wound up third last year.

The team really fell apart on him this season through no fault of his own.

Roy Campanella's tragic accident during the winter was a major blow. Then Don Newcombe, baseball's outstanding pitcher only two years ago, failed to win and was traded to Cincinnati.

Right now, Duke Snider and Carl Furillo are nursing injuries that keep them from playing.

Richards, Fromme Win State Titles In Regatta

Deep Creek Yachtsmen Also Annex Two Crowns

In a two-day event given an international flavor by entries from Canada and Cuba, two Maryland state sailing championships were decided at the Deep Creek Yacht Club's 21st Annual Regatta. Final events in the three-run series were staged yesterday on Deep Creek Lake.

Howard N. Richards, of Oakville, Ont., Canada, decisively captured the Maryland Snipe crown, outslaying 18 other entries to take two firsts and a second in the series of three races. Mrs. Amelia Richards was her husband's crew in Pathfinder.

Ludwig Fromme, of Toledo, O., duplicated the victory of his brother, Edward Fromme, last year in taking the Rebel Class title with two firsts and a second. The Fromme brothers alternate as skipper and crew of their Slo-Mo-Shun.

Gary Evans Runnerup

Runner up in the Snipe Class was Gary Evans of Baltimore with a second, third and fifth. Third place went to Samuel P. Card, also of Baltimore, who was third with a first, fifth and seventh place.

Second place in the Rebel class was taken by Robert Crist of Toledo, O., with a first and two seconds. Third was David Mahan of Morgantown, W. Va., a member of the host club, with two thirds and a sixth.

Two club championships were also decided. Donald C. Beeler of Washington, D. C., was the only host club member to gain a championship, taking the trophy in the Thistle Class, with two firsts and a second. His daughter, Barbara, made it largely a family affair by coping second place with a first, second and third.

In the newly-designed Flying Scot Class Sandy Douglas, the designer, of Mentor, O., took two firsts and a second to defeat Donald C. Holt, of Keyser. Third place went to Earl Zepp, of Oakland. Both Holt and Zepp represented the host club.

Cuban Entry Seventh

In the second division of the Snipe competition, Ronald C. Foulds of Pittsburgh was the winner.

The Cuban entry, Carlos Bosch, was seventh in the Snipe series with a fourth, fifth and an eighth.

The regatta was the sixth annual event involving state championships in the 21-year-old history of the Deep Creek Yacht Club. Forty-two yachts participated in the 12 events Saturday and Sunday that decided the championships.

Officials were Henry K. Duke, commodore of the club; immediate past commodore Frederick D. Steiding, chairman of the regatta committee, and A. W. German, chairman of the racing committee.

Marines, Keech's In Rec Loop Tilt

Only one game is scheduled today in the Rec Softball League and that finds fourth place Keech's Drug Stores (8-7) testing Marine Reserve (6-6) on the Rolling Mill Field at 6:15 p. m.

A win for Keech's would move them into third place ahead of Ridgeley Legion (7-6). A Marine victory would tie them with Ridgeley for third spot and would knot McIntyre's (8-8) with Keech's for fourth position.

Good Catches

Anglers this summer are making unusual catches, the National Wildlife Federation reports. A fisherman in Pennsylvania, seeking crappie, caught a live muskrat. A lady caster in Tennessee tossed a plug and snared an owl flying overhead!

ROSE WINS TOURNEY

The loss yesterday brought Cumberland's record in the league to 1-2 and its overall mark to 2-2. It has one league match with Keyser remaining next month. A tentative non-league encounter is scheduled at Meyersdale next Sunday.

Maurice Bernstein had a hand in both Cumberland wins yesterday. He won his singles in comparative easy fashion, then teamed with Bill Day to register a doubles victory.

Webb Meets Franz Szuzina In TV Scrap

NEW YORK (UPI) — Middleweights, heavyweights and welterweights will feature next week's televised boxing program but the withdrawal of Gene Fullmer has changed the makeup of one of the features.

Madison Square Garden, usually the scene of the Friday night TV program, will have a Wednesday night video 10-rounder this time with Spider Webb replacing Gene Fullmer in a bout with Franz Szuzina of Germany. The fight will be carried by ABC at 10 p. m. e. d. t.

Fullmer, a former middleweight champion hoping for another shot at the title, withdrew from the bout Thursday after suffering a cut eye in training.

Webb outpointed Dick Tiger in London June 24 in his last fight. He knocked out Rory Calhoun, outpointed Jimmy Beecham and dropped a decision to Holly Mims in other starts this year. Szuzina knocked out John Penn but lost twice to Joey Giardello in other bouts in 1958.

Friday night's TV-radio (NBC) fight will be staged at the Syracuse (N.Y.) Auditorium, where Tony Anthony of New York and Archie McBride of Trenton, N.J., meet in a heavyweight 10-rounder.

Anthony, a light heavyweight contender, is fighting as a heavyweight this time and expects to weigh about 165 pounds. His showing at that weight may decide whether he will go after Floyd Patterson's heavy crown. He will be a lopsided favorite over McBride.

Anthony seeks his 35th win in 41 starts; McBride — who hasn't fought this year — tries for his 22nd victory in 35 bouts.

At St. Nicholas arena, tonight, two New York welterweights — Jimmy Archer and Tony DiBlase — meet in a TV (Dumont) 10-rounder. Archer will be favored because of his aggressiveness.

Louise Suggs Cops French Lick Open

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (UPI) — Louise Suggs, Atlanta, Ga., held the French Lick Women's Open golf championship today—mainly by reason of four missed putts by her title opponent.

Marlene Bauer Hagge looked good to win the crown. After a touch-and-go match Mrs. Hagge had a one-stroke edge, but collapsed with five putts on the 17th green to yield the championship Sunday to the Atlanta golfer.

Miss Suggs carded a 72 for the final round and wound up with 300 for the $7,500 72-hole tourney. Fay Crocker of Uruguay finished in second place with 302. Mrs. Hagge, who had a 78 for the final 18, was third with 303.

Sports Shoppe will be seeking to move into first place this evening in the City Softball League when tangling with front-running Old Exports at Post Field in one of two scheduled games, both of which are slated to start at 6:15 p. m.

The other contest finds Chaney Transportation (4-5) battling with Knights of Columbus, same record, at Rolling Mill diamond.

Sports Shoppe has a mark of 6-5 and is a half-game behind the Exports who are 6-4.

The Giants jumped to a 2-0 edge in the second inning of the nightcap as Ray Jablonski belted a Ronnie Blackburn pitch for a double to open the frame. He scored on a single by Daryl Spencer. The second run came on singles by Valmy Thomas and Giel.

The Giants added a marker in the fourth when Orlando Cepeda singled, took second on an infield (Continued on Page 13)

Hyndman Holds Top, Blanking Barrelville

Hyndman's Merchants, relying on the seven-hit shutout pitching of Glenn Deremer, held on to their half-game lead in the Pen-Mar Baseball League pennant chase yesterday by turning back the Barrelville Old Exports, 3-0, at Barrelville.

Deremer bettered Bobby Raines, losing pitcher, for the third time this season in yesterday's battle. The loss was the second in a row for Barrelville which was upset by Mount Savage Saturday.

Deremer spaced seven hits while striking out ten in notching his seventh triumph against two losses. Raines had bowed to Deremer, 2-1 and 4-1, in earlier games.

Explode In Fifth
The Merchants tallied all their runs in the fifth inning on four hits, a sacrifice and a pair of throwing errors. Lloyd (Pete) Deremer started the uprising with a base hit and went to second on Gene Star's sacrifice. Singles by Bob Cook and Carl Leydig, coupled with the two throwing mistakes, produced two runs and Cliff Clites' single drove in the third.

Gary Lehman had three of Hyndman's safeties while Pete Deremer and Clites had two each. Harold Hudson and George Miller shared four of Barrelville's eight hits.

Grantville's Sluggers remained a half game off the pace, as Robert (Rabbit) Keister southpawed his way to a 17-0 victory over Flintstone's Farmers at Flintstone. The win was the third straight for the Sluggers over the Farmers.

Keister notched his sixth win against a single setback as he struck out 11, scattered seven hits and failed to issue a free pass. The Garret Countians amassed 12 hits and were issued nine free tickets by Flintstone hurlers.

Junie Perry led Grantville at the plate with a perfect day, hitting three doubles in as many of official trips. Joe Wenger banged a pair of two-baggers and a single. John Keister doubled twice and Jim Keister had two singles and received three bases on balls. Bill Hook collected two of the losers' seven bingles.

The Zihlman Zipper's extended their win streak to four games by defeating Salisbury's Cardinals, 6-1, at the latter place.

Lefty Bill Haberelein (4-5) yielded nine hits and had 13 Cardinals fanning the breeze. Loser Don Carey had a two-hitter going into the eighth but was trailing 5-1 because of seven Cardinal errors. Zihlman's only earned run came in the eighth on Jack Anderson's double and singles by Curt Johnson and Kenny Johnson. Curt Johnson also tripled to take hitting honors.

Rockers Score Three In 6th, Blank Chairs

The Rockers scored all their runs in the sixth inning on three hits and an error to defeat the Chairs, 3-0, yesterday in the Rocking Chair League All-Star game at Stitzer Field.

The winning team was composed of players from VFW, Loyal Order of Moose, Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Celanese teams and managed by Cecil Grimes.

The Rockers capped the contest in the sixth inning with "Dusty" Rhodes on the hill. "Bub" Frye reached first on an error and was advanced to third on a single by Pete Cecil of the Moose. Jim Fradiska, also of Moose, knocked in two runs with a two-base wallop and Clay Ingram of Pittsburgh Plate drove in the third and final tally with a double.

Charley Day, of VFW, started on the slab for the Rockers and was relieved by Glenn Kaufman of the Vets in the fourth. Kaufman was credited with the win. Day yielded three hits and Kaufman was touched for two.

Allan Sheetz, Knights of Columbus chucker, started for the Chairs and pitched shutout ball while being reached for three hits in his four-inning stint. Rhodes was tossed with the loss and gave up four hits, three of them in the late sixth.

The Chairs team was composed of players from Ritter's AC, the Elks, Knights of Columbus and the Celanese. They were managed by Walter (Pooch) Orndorff.

Ted Durbin of the Vets rapped out a double and single and Pete Cecil garnered a pair of singles for the winners. Vern Penner starred afield at his shortfield position.

out, stole third and scored on a sacrifice fly.

The Pirates came back in the fourth for their first run when Dick Stuart doubled off the left-field wall and Thomas clobbered a drive to the light stand where Leon Wagner made a leaping try for the ball but just missed. Stuart had to stop at third, but came home on a sacrifice fly by Bob Skinner.

Skinner Hits Seals
Bob Porterfield took the mound in the next inning when Blackburn left for a pinchhitter. Skinner gave the Pirates life in the opener when, behind 0-1 in the ninth, he hammered an Al Worthington pitch into the upper right-field seats to force the contest into extra innings.

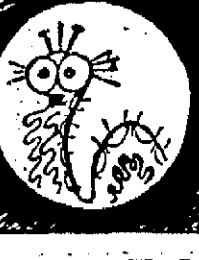

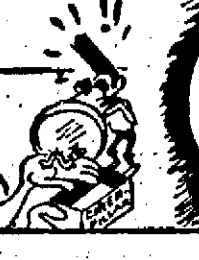

Worthington and starter Ronnie Kline hurled six straight scoreless innings. The deadlock was broken when Ray Jablonski slammed a round-tripper in the seventh.

In the 14th, reliever Ray Montant issued a walk to Stuart, who was forced at second by Thomas. A single by Skinner and an intentional walk to Bill Mazeroski filled the bases. Dick Groat rapped a fly to short right field and Thomas tagged up and streaked home for the victory before 31,718 fans.

United States Golfers Await Cup Matches

CHICAGO (AP)—The U.S. Curtis Cup team, bolstered by one of its star's victory in the Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament, is warmed up for its matches with Britain's best next week.

The U. S. team will arrive at the Braeburn Country Club, site of the series in West Newton, Mass., Sunday for practice before the matches Aug. 8 and 9.

The team of six, selected from a group of eight, will not be named by the nonplaying captain, Mrs. Charles Denney of Lake Forest, Ill., until the evening before competition starts.

But Mrs. Denney probably will find it difficult not to name Barbara McIntire of Jupiter, Fla., and Ann Quast of Everett, Wash.

Miss McIntire gave a splendid demonstration of pressure shooting in defeating Miss Quast 2-1, in 35 holes to take the Women's Western Amateur crown Saturday.

Miss Quast, the medalist, was a relentless opponent, keeping the match alive with remarkable putting. She one-putted nine greens in the final 17 holes and wound up with a total of 41 for 113 holes played in the meet.

Others making up the U.S. team are Polly Riley, Fort Worth; Barbara Romack, Sacramento, Calif.; Meriam Bailey, Evanston, Ill.; Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone, Mason City, Iowa; Anne Richardson, Columbus, Ohio, and the National Amateur champion, Joanne Gunderson, Kirkland, Wash.

All but Miss Gunderson played in the Western Amateur.

Hermanettes Cop Both Halves Of Doubleheader

The Old German Hermanettes swept both ends of its doubleheader with a Baltimore girls team yesterday at Penn Avenue Field by the scores of 4-3 and 10-4.

The Hermanettes won the first half of the twinbill with a last ditch rally in the seventh inning. The locals scored twice when, after one was out, Anabelle Leatherman walked, Beverly Warnick singled, and Pat Thompson walked preceding an error by catcher Mueller.

Rosie Bowers went all the way for the Hermanettes, striking out seven. She whiffed the side in the fourth inning. Jean Stakes did the hurling for the visitors and was touched for six hits.

Warnick doubled and singled, Becky Lease had a pair of singles and Annabelle Leatherman and Pat Cioni accounted for the rest of the winners' hits.

Deany doubled and singled and Mueller and Connors binged for the losers.

The nightcap was limited to five innings by mutual agreement in order to allow the Baltimore club to get an early start home. The Hermanettes tallied eight runs in the first two innings, highlighted by Anabelle Leatherman's home run with one on, to coast to the victory. Jeanne Hale also homered, a solo blast to leadoff the fourth.

Lease had two singles and Pat Cioni singled to account for all of the Hermanette's hits.

Pat Cioni did the chucking for the local girls and allowed just one hit — a single in the fifth to drive in two runs after the bases were walked full. An error permitted Baltimore to tally its fourth run. Strakes was again the loser.

Cora Leatherman turned in several nice catches of fly balls in left field.

The double win set the Hermanettes record at 10-8. They will close out their regular season August 29 at Frederick. The girls will participate in the state tournament beginning Saturday in Baltimore.

Some Tax Returns Are Due July 31

Employers are reminded that several types of tax returns are due by July 31. Irving Machiz, acting director of the Internal Revenue for the Baltimore District, has announced.

Machiz said returns are due for the months of April, May and June from the following employers:

Employers who file quarterly federal tax returns, Form 941. This combined return is for reporting withholding and social security taxes on employees for the second quarter of 1958.

Employers who have domestic servants such as cooks, janitors, maids, chauffeurs and other workers who perform services of a household nature, are subject to Social Security taxes (Form 942) if $50 or more was paid in wages in the second quarter of 1958.

Returns from persons liable for quarterly excise tax (Form 720) are due July 31. Excise taxes include taxes on facilities and services, manufacturing excise taxes and taxes on products and commodities.

Where the withholding, Social Security and excise taxes exceed $100 a month, a depository receipt system must be used.

Machiz added a public law was enacted last February to insure that employers comply with the law after they have been notified in person if they failed to file a proper return.

Persons who after this notification fail to obey the provision are, unless they have a legitimate reason, guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction are subject to a fine of $5,000, one year imprisonment, or both.

Compensation Appeal Filed

More than 72,000 fluorescent lamps are required to light the production lines of just one U.S. aircraft plant. It uses 32 carloads of them a year.

An appeal has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court by Joseph E. Tipton from a decision of the Workmen's Compensation Commission on a claim he made for injuries received at work.

Papers in the case show that Tipton was employed by the Consolidated Engineering Company in the construction of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant here. He was injured February 23, 1956.

Edward J. Ryan is attorney for Tipton.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Tuesday, July 29, 1958:

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — There may be temptations to nullify your self-regard of the wishes of others. DON'T! A serious manner and cheerful willingness to cooperate will be necessary to produce good results.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Some moodiness may be prevalent now. Be your usual sturdy self, dependable, sound of judgment. You can accomplish a great deal if you try.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — More on the favorable side than otherwise. However, be your usual alert, efficient self in spite of possible "rough going," difficult obstacles. You can win greater success if reasonably cooperative.

JUNE 22 to JULY 21 (Cancer) — This may not be a "big day" but it can be a challenge to your liver, more ambitious self. Accept it as such and you will come out with colors flying. Gain indicated through good deeds, intelligent management, honest intentions.

JULY 22 to AUGUST 21 (Leo) — Do what you must, and in a calm and collected manner. You will achieve more than you realize if you keep your head and don't expect the unreasonable, however.

AUGUST 22 to SEPTEMBER 21 (Virgo) — Do the things that are right, including yourself, and your problems. Worry less, but keep working, straightening out matters as you go. Laugh, enjoy recreation with loved ones.

SEPTEMBER 22 to OCTOBER 21 (Libra) — No restlessness now! The cheer and more cheerful you are in manner, the better cooperation and results you will get. Don't fear competition; meet it.

OCTOBER 22 to NOVEMBER 21 (Scorpio) — Mild influences. Use your ingenuity, common sense and other assets for the tasks and decisions ahead. Don't think you know all the answers; seek more knowledge.

NOVEMBER 22 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Although a promising period, be sensibly cautious in investments, finances generally. Don't neglect family interests as you proceed in other affairs.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Friendly influences to help you forward in both family matters and new activities. Be determined but not stubborn. You have much ability, cleverness; let no fault defeat these qualities.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — While not an entirely favorable period, you can fill in the weak spots by giving closer attention to details and by providing your own rest where needed. Don't procrastinate. Good results for good efforts.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Take things in an orderly fashion and reason calmly. You have common sense in abundance and many natural talents with which to work. Have faith in these gifts and put them to work.

YOU BORN TODAY are engaging, active, clever at your work — especially if it is in "your line" — selling, the stage or screen, managing a large concern or business endeavor. You are also able at buildings; are mechanically inclined; make top military or naval personnel; are brave, likeable, lovable, and able to handle difficult or hazardous tasks; are witty entertainers and actors. You may talk yourself into difficult situations but can usually talk yourself out again. Curb moodiness, over-sensitiveness. Birthdate: Booth Tarkington, novelist.

Here's The 'How' Of Squeeze Play

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

In response to numerous requests, I am going to devote this week's articles to a discussion of the "squeeze play."

The basis of the squeeze play is pressure. You use your low cards to force a defender to discard some of his high cards.

The simplest squeeze is the one-way pressure squeeze on one opponent in two suits.

In today's hand South wins the opening lead of the king of spades with dummy's ace and notes that he only has 12 tricks and no apparent chance for the 13th.

After a little thought about partners who bid grand slams, South sees some hope. West is marked with the queen of spades. Maybe it is singleton, so South trumps the four of spades in his own hand just in case.

The queen does not drop, so now South draws trumps, cashes the two clubs and runs the rest of his trumps. Dummy's last four cards are the ace-king-small of diamonds and the jack of spades. West has to discard before dummy must go down to two diamonds on order to retain the spade queen. Since East had started with only two diamonds he could never stop the suit and South makes his grand slam.

South was lucky to catch West with four diamonds but he had used the squeeze most effectively.

Charles Morrow Named Livestock Show Manager

BALTIMORE (AP)—Charles A. Morrow, owner of the Wakefield Valley stock farm of New Windsor, Md., is the new manager of the Eastern National Livestock Show.

His appointment was announced during the weekend. The show is held annually on the Maryland State Fair Grounds at Timonium. Morrow succeeds Joseph M. Vial, who retired July 1. The new manager has been interested in raising purebred cattle since 1933, when he bought a farm near Westminster. After World War II, Morrow purchased his present farm and began raising Aberdeen-Angus cattle.

Morrow has been a director of Eastern National for the past eight years and has served as

Trout Pictures

Taking pictures of trout in action calls for skill and imagination. One ingenious photographer explains his method. First he mounts his camera at water level and sets up an electric light beam in front of it. He then maneuvers the fly to attract the fish. As the trout leaps through the light beam, the electric eye automatically fires camera and speed lights.

Apathy Marks West Virginia Campaigning

Candidates Busy With Intraparty Election Issues

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The last full week of campaigning in West Virginia's primary election Aug. 5 began today still devoid of interest or issues.

There may be intraparty issues aplenty, but candidates with opposition have been too busy with the intraparty job of influencing voters to bother with the issues just now.

Although two U. S. Senate seats are at stake this year for the first time in 16 years, the campaign has generated none of the theatrics common to West Virginia politics.

For one thing, some of the well known figures—like the late Sen. M. M. Neely and former Sen. Rush D. Holt—have departed the scene.

Soft-Pedal Approach
The opposed candidates have adopted a soft-pedal approach hardly in keeping with the blustering factionalism of other years.

As a result, the voter has been plunged deeper than ever into primary election apathy. The man in the street seemingly couldn't care less who gets nominated.

Of two things he is certain—the Republican nominees for the two U. S. Senate seats will be incumbents Chapman Revercomb and John D. Hobbittell Jr. Revercomb is after his second six-year term. He was elected in 1942, the last time there were two senators on the ticket. He came back in 1956 to win the balance of the term of the late Sen. Harley M. Kilgore.

Hobbittell was appointed to the vacancy created by Neely's death last January and is seeking to retain that seat for the remaining two years of the term. The main Democratic contender for Revercomb's seat is 40-year-old Rep. Robert C. Byrd of Sophia, who, by the estimate of Democratic admirers, could have "stayed in the House for the rest of his life."

Former Gov. William C. Marland, heralded as an aspirant for Revercomb's full-term seat and with backing of the United Mine Workers, decided at the last minute to go for the short-term seat. This left Byrd facing two relatively unknown contenders.

Fleming N. Alderson, 74, of Charleston, Democratic nominee for State attorney general in 1954, and 30-year-old Fairmont restaurant operator Jack R. Delligatti, Maryland's campaign for the right to oppose Hobbittell in November is somewhat more complicated.

His opponents include: Jennings Randolph of Elkins, 56, genial, chubby, hand-shaking former congressman, who's been out of active politics since 1947. Arnold M. Vickers, 49-year-old Montgomery attorney also coming out of political retirement in quest of high office. He served as president of the State Senate in 1946-47. Wilford R. (Squibb) Wilson, 44, athletic director of Fairmont State College and member of the House of Delegates from Marion County.

State's Attorneys Begin Atlantic City Convention

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Prosecuting attorneys from throughout Maryland gathered here today for the annual convention of the State's Attorney's Assn. of Maryland.

The two-day convention for the first time is being held jointly with the convention of the National Assn. of County and Prosecuting Attorneys. Normally, the Maryland group meets in Ocean City, Md.

Baltimore State's Atty. J. Harold Grady, president of the Maryland association, said his group will discuss the issue of holding State's witnesses in criminal cases in default of bail.

The Maryland group also will take up the public defender system, frequently urged for Baltimore City. Also on the agenda is discussion of Maryland's new post-conviction act, a procedure set up for hearing all grounds for a reversal of conviction at one time.
